

FRENCH DECLARE MARTIAL LAW

FRANCE USING HER COLONIAL ARMY ON RHINE

Contrary to Previously Announced Policy Nation Uses These Troops
MATTER OF POLICY
May Be Move Aimed at German Resistance in Districts

Washington, Jan. 27.—Contrary to her previously announced policy, France is now using colonial troops in the Ruhr, according to official advice received at the German embassy here today, from Berlin.

The troops in question are declared to be Moroccans, whom the French have always regarded as among the best of their colonial forces.

The French authorities have always insisted that Moroccan troops should not be classed as "black," though the Poincare government nevertheless announced at the beginning of the present occupation that only Frenchmen of white race would be used in the movement.

It is assumed here that the decision to use the Moroccans was prompted either by the resistance encountered from the German authorities or by the fact that it was found necessary to use more troops than was at first expected.

French military authorities insist the Moroccans are noted for their fine spirit of discipline. Those who were in the occupation territory before the movement into the Ruhr, they declare were more popular with the German population than were the native French soldiers.

The attacks directed against the use of colonial troops in Germany, the French authorities say, are merely German propaganda designed to arouse hostility to France in America and elsewhere. During the recent visit of Georges Clemenceau, when opposition to the use of black troops in Germany was already extensive, Clemenceau announced he had official assurances from the French government that no black troops were being used.

"The Tiger" defended the Moroccans as being of the white race, but stated he had recommended to M. Poincare that as a matter of policy even the Moroccans be kept out of Germany.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Jan. 27.—A decree has been entered in the court at Winchester, W. Va., disposing of a valuable estate of over five hundred acres and historic heirlooms once the property of George Washington, near Hopewell meeting house, not far from this city. This estate, known as Waverly, belonged to George Fayette Washington, descendant of the first president and it has required six years to finally determine the legal heirs, who number nineteen. The land will be sold under the auctioneer's hammer, but the prized heirlooms will be disposed of at a private sale.

Bellevue, O., Jan. 27.—Tom Bruno is being held by police here today, following the digging of a baby's body in his yard yesterday. William Grassey, father of Mrs. Bruno, instigated an official search which resulted in the finding of the body, and declares, police say, that the child was born alive and strangled.

Grassey's revelations on charges followed a quarrel with his daughter and her husband. Prosecuting Attorney Allen Agler will be asked to investigate upon his return from Columbus this afternoon.

Coblentz, Jan. 27.—American military authority in Europe ended at noon today when Major Gen. Henry T. Allen, commander of the departed American army of occupation, formally turned Coblentz over to French command. The Americans held the city for four years.

Columbus, Jan. 27.—"The European situation is so grave that, unless the beneficent God intervenes, man will be helpless," declared Dr. J. T. Holdsworth, vice president of the Bank of Pittsburgh, addressing the Columbus chapter, American Institute of Banking here.

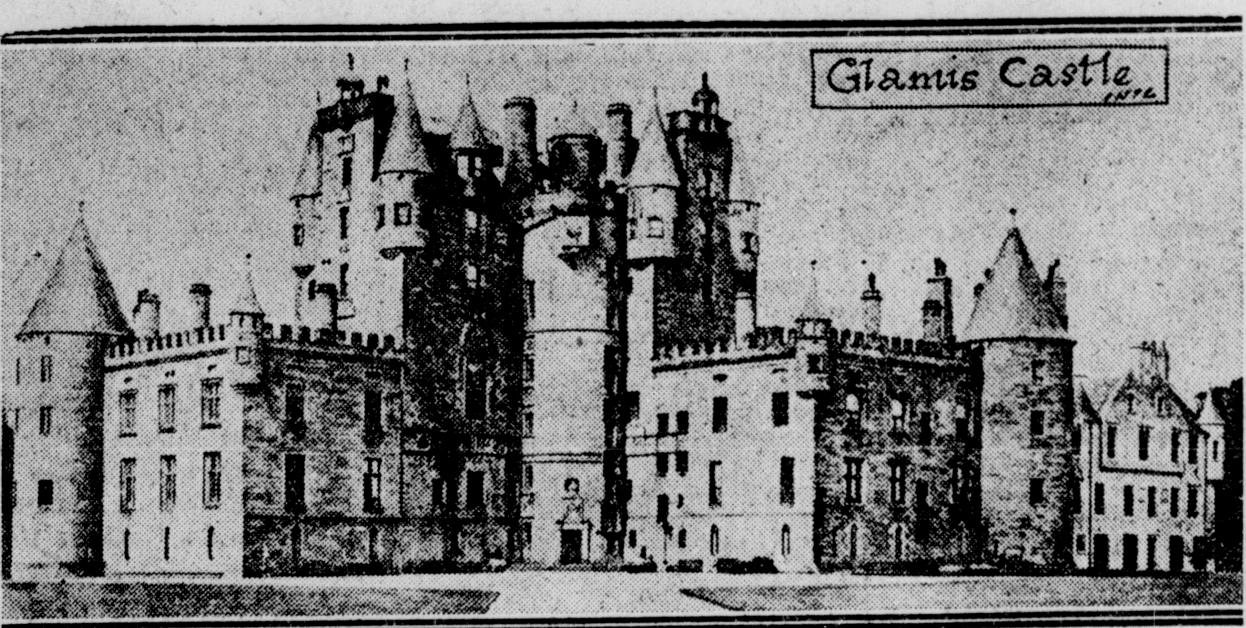

"France alone, of all the nations involved in the world war, seems to have a definite plan of roadmending and the courage to put it into effect," continued Dr. Holdsworth. "Wisely, or unwisely, France insists the terms of the treaty of peace and subsequent reparations shall be fulfilled, and, tired of Germany's truculency and evasion, uses, at last, an argument that Germany understands—the argument of force."

"The time has come when America should quit the role of observer and take up that of preserver. America appears to be unable to visualize the real import to herself of the impending bankruptcy of Europe," said Dr. Holdsworth. "There is a great need of a big, constructive program of progress at home and abroad."

Budapest, Jan. 27.—Roumania was reported today to be mobilizing troops on the Hungarian frontier. A dispatch from the border said that four Roumanian divisions had occupied Aradazthmar.

Roumanian military trains are proceeding towards Transylvania with war materials.

Premier Bethlen, of Hungary, has sent a circular to the Allies notifying them that "the little entente is making dangerous war preparations."

Ill feeling has existed between Hungary and Roumania ever since the allies detached large sections of Hungarian territory and gave them to Roumania. There have been frequent raids over the Roumanian frontier by Hungarian irregulars.

Munich, Jan. 27.—All of Bavaria east of the Rhine today was declared by the government in "a state of emergency" as a result of the national convention of Bavarian Fascists in this city and threats of fighting. Troops are massed in the city and suburbs.

Paris, Jan. 27.—The situation in Bavaria is giving the French government grave concern. Advice from Munich said that disorders were threatened. It is possible that France may take action regarding Bavaria within 24 hours.

HELD BY POLICE AS BODY FOUND

Bellevue, O., Jan. 27.—Tom Bruno is being held by police here today, following the digging of a baby's body in his yard yesterday. William Grassey, father of Mrs. Bruno, instigated an official search which resulted in the finding of the body, and declares, police say, that the child was born alive and strangled.

Grassey's revelations on charges followed a quarrel with his daughter and her husband. Prosecuting Attorney Allen Agler will be asked to investigate upon his return from Columbus this afternoon.

SEEKS IMMINENT DANGER TO WORLD IN EUROPE

Columbus, Jan. 27.—"The European situation is so grave that, unless the beneficent God intervenes, man will be helpless," declared Dr. J. T. Holdsworth, vice president of the Bank of Pittsburgh, addressing the Columbus chapter, American Institute of Banking here.

"France alone, of all the nations involved in the world war, seems to have a definite plan of roadmending and the courage to put it into effect," continued Dr. Holdsworth. "Wisely, or unwisely, France insists the terms of the treaty of peace and subsequent reparations shall be fulfilled, and, tired of Germany's truculency and evasion, uses, at last, an argument that Germany understands—the argument of force."

The total number of French railroads sent into the Rhineland is 4,800, the majority of whom are volunteers. The rail men called to the colors were told that their period of service would be 23 days.

TERRIFIC BLAST TAKES ONE LIFE IN NEWARK, N. J.

Newark, Jan. 27.—One man was killed, a one story brick garage wrecked and about 125 families driven in panic from their homes early today when a terrific explosion occurred in the garage. The explosion is believed by the police to have been caused by a still which was operated in the garage.

The roof of the garage was lifted several feet in the air by the force of the explosion and fell into the interior. Flames broke out and when the firemen extinguished they found the burned body of an unidentified man under the debris.

A wrecked still was found lying in a pool of water. Three other stills were found, each in a corner of the garage. At least two of them had exploded.

Fire, police and prohibition officials have started an investigation.

NOT GUILTY IS YOUTHS' PLEA IN WILMINGTON

Two Charged With Murder Are Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Louis Vandervoort, 20, near Jamestown, and his cousin, Walter Bangham, 20, of Port William, entered pleas of not guilty to affidavits charging with first degree murder in connection with the death of Emery McCreeght, Wilmington policeman, last February 15, when they were arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. I. Stewart in Wilmington Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

At the same time, Archie Glass, 21, and Frank Moorman, 20, of near Jamestown, confessed accomplices of Vandervoort, in one or more of a series of robberies he is said to have admitted perpetrating, were arraigned with Vandervoort on charges of burglary and larceny in connection with the robbery of the Isadore Kauffman Syndicate store in Wilmington last fall. All three pleaded not guilty.

Vandervoort and Bangham waived preliminary examination on the murder charges and were bound over to the Clinton County Grand Jury without bond. Vandervoort, Glass and Moorman, waived preliminary examination on the charges of burglary and larceny and were also bound over their bonds being fixed at $1,000 each.

The bond fixed in the case of Vandervoort on the burglary and larceny charge means nothing as he is held without bond on the murder charge. Moorman and Glass may obtain their temporary release by furnishing the amount of the bonds, although they had produced bondsmen at noon Saturday.

The arraignment was made in the office of the Clinton County Jail before Squire Stewart. Instead of the Common Pleas Courtroom as scheduled. The large crowd expected to be present at the hearing was disappointed as the arraignment was made quietly and few were in attendance.

Whether a special session of the Grand Jury would be called to consider the case, is not known, and Clinton County authorities were unable to say if that plan would be carried out Saturday. The Grand Jury is not in session now. With the murder charge placed against Vandervoort he will probably never be tried on the burglary and larceny charge on which he was arraigned and Washington C. H. authorities will not press the charge of holding up the Christopher drug store in that city December 9, on which charge Vandervoort was originally placed under arrest.

STAGE ROYALIST DEMONSTRATION IN FRENCH CITY

Organization of Sympathizers Planned Modeled After Italian Fascisti

Paris, Jan. 27.—The greatest Royalist demonstration France has seen in half a century took place this afternoon in connection with the funeral of Marius Plateau, monarchist leader and editor of the Royalist newspaper L'Action Francaise, who was assassinated by a young woman anarchist.

Steps are being taken to form an organization of French Royalists modeled after the Italian Fascisti. During the morning Premier Poincare received a delegation of Socialists who claimed that the Monarchists were "threatening the safety of the republic." They charged that Royalist leaders are working hard to restore the French throne.

Premier Poincare said that the government had no fears and that every necessary precaution had been taken to prevent incidents during the afternoon. The premier said that the Royalist leaders were being watched, that their plans were known and that they were in no position to do harm.

Paris, Jan. 27.—Martial law was declared at Treves and Kreutznach by the French today following riots in which a number of persons were injured say Mayence advices to the Petit Parisien.

The trouble began when the French military authorities deported ten German officials from Treves. Mobs formed in the streets and French civilians were attacked.

French colonial troops charged the mobs and fighting followed. No one was killed.

Treves and Kreutznach are at the extreme southern end of the German territory taken over by the Allies after the armistice. It is quite distant from the Ruhr and Westphalian industrial districts seized by the French a fortnight ago. A state of siege, which is approximate to martial law has been prevailing in the

BRITAIN IS NOT SATISFIED WITH U. S. DEBT PLANS

English Official Says His Nation Has Best Terms to Be Offered

London, Jan. 27.—Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British debt funding mission, who arrived in Washington today, said that Great Britain has already obtained the best terms that the United States will give and that he will not return to America for any further negotiations. The chancellor expressed regret that the negotiations of the American side had fallen into the hands of politicians.

Mr. Baldwin and the other members of the mission arrived at Southampton upon the White Star Liner Olympic. The chancellor placidly puffed his pipe while he summed up his conclusions in the following terse sentences:

"There is no hope of getting America to offer better terms. The problem now is whether the British cabinet will accept the terms offered. Any change of opinion in the United States would be against England, not in our favor. Cancellation has got upon the nerves of the American people. I am not going back to the United States on war debt business."

Other members of the British party agreed with Mr. Baldwin that debt cancellation was a very unpopular subject in the United States at this time.

The chancellor of the exchequer, elaborated upon his views, saying: "The American people as a whole think they are doing an extraordinarily generous thing in offering the terms they did to the British. I am afraid however, that the British do not think so."

GERMAN CITIES HIT BY ORDER FOLLOWING REPORTED VIOLENCE

Railway Traffic in Ruhr Coal Fields Practically at Standstill as 175,000 Miners, Steel Workers and Trainmen Are Idle

Paris, Jan. 27.—Martial law was declared at Treves and Kreutznach by the French today following riots in which a number of persons were injured say Mayence advices to the Petit Parisien.

The trouble began when the French military authorities deported ten German officials from Treves. Mobs formed in the streets and French civilians were attacked.

French colonial troops charged the mobs and fighting followed. No one was killed.

Treves and Kreutznach are at the extreme southern end of the German territory taken over by the Allies after the armistice. Dusseldorf, Jan. 27.—Except for French military trains, railway traffic in the Ruhr coal fields was practically at a standstill today. Nearly all the German railroad workers in the Ruhr are on strike. No coal was being shipped into France or Belgium, although a few trains left for German points, against the express commands of the French.

It is estimated that about 175,000 coal miners, iron and steel workers and railroad workers are idle.

There is a great scarcity of freight cars for fuel shipments.

French railway and canal workers are arriving to supplant the Germans. The French have decided against requisitioning German labor for the time being for fear of trouble. Isolated disorders were reported from the occupied districts but for the most part the people are sullenly passive.

It was reported from Mayence that proclamations, dated February 1, are being printed there, declaring the Rhineland a separate and independent republic.

SEE SHOWDOWN ON SYSTEM OF U. S. FINANCES

Senate Action on Budget Plan Likely to Come Soon.

Washington, Jan. 27.—A showdown on the budget system of financing governmental operations—inaugurated by the present administration—is foreshadowed in connection with the final action on the army appropriation bill now pending before the Senate.

Embodied in this bill is the annual rivers and harbors appropriation, and it is upon this so called "pork barrel" item that a spirited clash between the executive and the legislative branches is expected to center.

President Harding has taken as a direct assault on the system the action of the House in increasing the rivers and harbors appropriation from $27,000,000, as recommended by the budget bureau, to $56,000,000. This $29,000,000 increase, according to the White House, "not only was unwarranted but was contrary to the spirit of the administration's economic policy."

No indication could be obtained at the White House as to whether the president would veto the army bill should it pass through the senate without material reduction in the item. It was made known in the plainest terms, however, that the president resents the enormous increase over the submitted figures.

Administration leaders are hopeful of favorable action by the Senate. Already, certain groups in the Upper House are understood to be preparing a vigorous fight for a reduction. Led by Senator King, of Utah, and including many of the powerful administration Senators, these men hope to bring the rivers and harbors figure back at least to a semblance of that submitted by the budget bureau.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Jan. 27.—Four persons were reported seriously injured in a wreck on the Jersey Central Railroad near Rockport at an early hour this morning.

SITUATION NOW MORE TENSE OVER GERMAN SECTIONS

Washington, Jan. 27.—The situation in the occupied area of Germany was officially described here today as becoming "more tense."

Dispatches from American observers abroad, transmitted through official channels to the state department fully justify the grave tone of press dispatches, it was said.

A most pessimistic view of developments abroad was taken today by officials who are in closest touch with actual conditions in the occupied zone and with the state of feelings in both Berlin and Paris. The gloom appeared deeper than at any time since the French began their march into the Ruhr two weeks ago.

The opinion was expressed by one chief spokesman of the administration that the tension has become so great between Berlin and Paris that "neither intervention by disinterested outside nations nor direct negotiations between the French and Germans themselves, are likely at this time to offer any hope of alleviating the situation."

Officials did not take seriously today the protests being voiced in Paris that American correspondents in the Ruhr are exaggerating conditions. Official dispatches tally closely with what has been cabled American newspapers. While a gloomy view of the European situation was being taken at the state department the storm clouds of senatorial disapproval of administration policy appeared growing blacker at the capitol today.

The foreign relations committee of the senate held a short session and took up Secretary of State Hughes' complete report on the status and activities of Col. R. W. Boyden, on the allied reparations commission.

The committee examined the "confidential memoranda" submitted by Secretary Hughes and the dissatisfaction of some senators plainly was unabated after the session.

"The situation has not been cleared up," said Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican of California, a leader of the irreconcilable group. The report from Secretary Hughes simply discloses that we are still employing army and navy officers where they have no business. Ours is an anomalous situation."

Others of the irreconcilable group, who believe Col. Boyden should be brought home and all American connection with the reparations commission severed, expressed similar dissatisfaction.

Senator Henry C. Lodge, chairman of the committee and the administration spokesman on foreign affairs in the senate, had no comment. When the senate opened, Senator Lodge merely moved the printing of the Hughes letters in the Record, saying they were needed for an understanding of the policy of the secretary of state on reparations.

CHARGE DRY WORKER WITH STEALING OF CAR-DENIES GUILT

Marshal Dean Nye, of Richmond, Ohio, Says Matter Is a Frame-up.

Steuersville, O., Jan. 27.—Marshal Dean Nye, of Richmond, Ohio, one of the active dry enforcement men in Jefferson County and who caused quite a sensation early this week by appearing before state prohibition authorities to ask assistance in the clean up of Steuversville, alleging he was being interfered with by city authorities, was placed under arrest here Thursday night on a charge of having a stolen automobile in his possession.

A Buick machine, driven by Nye during the raids here, was identified this morning by Russell L. Law, a Wheeling insurance man, as that stolen from in front of his place of business on last September 11.

Nye claims he purchased the machine from a Dennison, O., man. He will be taken to Wheeling today to face charges although he maintains he will produce the man from whom he bought it.

In a statement to newspapermen Friday, Nye declared the arrest is a frame up by the city authorities to prevent him from continuing his prohibition enforcement activities here. The charge, however, was filed by Albert Super, an adjuster of a Cleveland automobile insurance company.

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Harding has approved the establishment of a naval base at Alameda in San Francisco bay an appropriation of $1,000,000 to begin construction. STATE POSTPONES CLINIC FOR GRIP

Columbus, Jan. 27.—With influenza prevalent all over Ohio, and with a general and increasing death list, due to pneumonia, the State Health Department has postponed its immediate program of tuberculosis diagnostic clinics, State Health Director Monger announced.

This action affects the clinic scheduled to be held at Washington C. H., January 30-31 and may affect clinics being planned for Youngstown, Marion and Clermont County, it was said.

"The State Health Department has taken the consistent attitude that, having advised the people of the state to stay at home, if they have colds, and having warned them of the dangers of neglecting this precaution, it has no right to create a congestion by calling together several score persons who may be a potential menace to the public health," declared Dr. Monger.

COOK DOES NOT WANT NIGHT OFF! KATY KETTLE PREFERS TO STAY HOME AND STUDY COOK-BOOK

TEN-HOUR DAY IS ADVOCATED FOR GIRL COLLEGE STUDENTS

New York, Jan. 22.—A ten hour day for the college girl and one day's rest in seven is recommended by the Board of Student Presidents at Barnard College in a resolution presented to the undergraduate body, which proposes a new point system to regulate extra-curricular activity. By this plan a student's entire college activity would be limited "to such an amount as she may reasonably be expected to accomplish in a ten-hour day, or a sixty-hour week."

Eight hours for sleep, two hours for exercise and four hours for meals, duties at home, and so on, are essential, the board believes, leaving ten hours in the twenty four for college activities. Under the new method the extra-curricular activities would be regulated by a point system, in which each point would stand for three hours of work, as it does in the academic system.

The board suggests that exceptions be made in the case of seniors, by special permission from the faculty committees on instruction and student affairs.

The Bulletin, Barnard's weekly newspaper, concludes an editorial on the scheme as follows:

"We would not yet pass judgment on the scheme, but rather would we launch it with the suggestion that it deserves earnest, heated and purposeful consideration at the hands of the college."

NOT GUILTY IS PLEA OF YOUTHS

On the eve of his arraignment on the most serious charge in the criminal catalogue, Vandervoort calmly declined on the cot of his cell in the Clinton County Jail and read a copy of the Saturday Evening Post. In another part of the jail, Bangham, Glass and Moorman, allowed the freedom of the cell block together, were permitted the inter-communication that was denied Vandervoort, who is held in solitary confinement.

Chief of Police M. E. Graham, Lieutenant Charles Mackrodt and Detective Cliff Latimer of the Pennsylvania Railroad police visited the youths in the jail Friday afternoon. Vandervoort appeared pleasant and unperturbed. There are no other prisoners held in the cell block in which he is a prisoner and for that reason his cell door is left open in the day time and he is permitted to relax in the corridor. He smiled mildly at his visitors and informed Chief Graham that he did not ever remember seeing the police officer on his frequent visits to Xenia. The youth politely thanked Sheriff Will Kirk when the latter turned on the lights to permit him to continue his reading. His visitors said he seemed self-assured and not bothered by worry.

Vandervoort is being held in a section of cells on the second floor of the jail. The three other youths are locked up at night in adjoining cells in a cell block on the first floor. There are four cells in the section and a prisoner being held for carrying concealed weapons is occupying the fourth cell. He scurried into his cell when the visitors were shown in by Sheriff Kirk. Bangham a tall, nice-looking boy, talked to the officers. He said he had not been in Xenia much and did not recognize Chief Graham or the other officers. Moorman and Glass retained their silence.

Mrs. Mary Bangham, of Port William, mother of one of the accused youths, visited her son in his cell Thursday for a short time. Two brothers of the youth are also said to have returned here and expected to visit him. Vandervoort has had no callers besides the authorities, who have frequently visited him.

Beyond the arraignment of the prisoners Saturday morning there were no new developments in the case announced by authorities in either Greene or Clinton Counties. Authorities here have not yet had an opportunity to subject two automobiles which they believe to be the gun with which Matthews was killed to a firing test.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wright, of Dayton, and Mrs. Lulu Elliston, of Louisville, Ky., will spend Sunday in this city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Shroades, of West Church St.

TORRENCE AGAIN NAMED TO POSITION WITH ASSOCIATION

FINDLEY M. TORRENCE

Findley M. Torrence, of this city, was reappointed by the Ohio Retail Lumber Dealers' Association as secretary-manager of the organization at the annual convocation, in Cleveland.

Mr. Torrence has successfully held the position of secretary and manager of the association and editor and publisher of the official magazine of the organization for the last eight years during which time the association has grown rapidly.

When the Xenia man accepted the secretaryship of the Association, its membership was small and the publication of "Wood Construction," the official organ, was costing the organization $13,000 annually. The income of the Association was $3,500 at that time and since Mr. Torrence has had charge of it, the Association income has grown to $36,000 in which the magazine, published twice a month, plays a big part.

Mr. Torrence, who has been in attendance at the annual convention in Cleveland will leave with 102 other delegates and their families, Saturday night for Chicago. The party will spend Sunday in Chicago and then proceed to Vancouver, followed by the trip to lumber camps along the Pacific coast, to learn lumber conditions. The party will be on the trip 26 days. HARDING SEES AN AGREEMENT ON WAR DEBT

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Harding has every confidence that there will be an agreement with the British government for the refunding of its huge war debt to the United States, it was stated at the white house. Should the settlement be delayed beyond the present session of congress, which ends March 3, there will, however, be no extra session of the new congress to consider the matter.

The president and the American debt commissioners were declared to believe that the counter proposition presented by the Americans after the British mission had outlined terms on behalf of its government was sound and one that might have been acceptable to congress. The firmness of the Americans in supporting their counter proposition was a contributing reason, it was believed, for the decision of the British to have cabinet consideration of the whole question before proceeding further with the negotiations.

Stanley Baldwin, British chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British mission to this country, is due to arrive in London today. He is expected to report immediately to Premier Bonar Law, but the cabinet probably will not take up the question before early next week.

The expectation here is that after the cabinet has acted, the negotiations with the American commission will be resumed through Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador at Washington. The American commissioners hope for an early settlement, but some of them are rather doubtful that an agreement can be put in shape for presentation to this congress in time for final action by the two houses before the date fixed by law for adjournment.

PRESIDENT OPPOSED TO NEW CONFERENCE

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Harding does not consider the present time opportune for the United States to call a world conference on economic problems, it was stated at the white house. It was indicated that the president will again oppose the reintroduced Borah resolution asking to call an economic conference. It was emphasized that the United States would be willing to participate in such a movement as soon as the nations of Europe indicate that they are ready for it.

A resolution calling on the president to convene a world peace conference in Washington was introduced in the house by Representative Chalmers (Rep. O.).

The resolution asks for the appointment of a committee of 10, five members each from the house and senate, to urge the president to assemble the leading nations of the world here "to consider and work out a specific plan for world stabilization."

RAIL SERVICE IS ORDERED RESTORED

Columbus, Jan. 27.—The Pennsylvania railroad was ordered by the state utilities commission to restore passenger train service between Cincinnati and Morrow on practically the same schedule as the company maintained between the two points before it recently discontinued service on the ground that other transportation competition had made it unprofitable. The order becomes effective Feb. 5. Opinion of the commission, as stated in the order, declares that proposed service offered as a substitute by the railroad "would be insufficient and would not afford the public reasonable and adequate service."

CHIROPRACTORS TO FIGHT

Cleveland, Jan. 27.—While nine chiropractors are "doing time" in lieu of paying fines, Albert H. Schnacke, president of the Ohio Chiropractic association, filed notice of appeal after he had been found guilty of practicing his profession without a license and was fined $25 and costs by Chief Justice John P. Dempsey in municipal court here. Forty-one others in Columbus, Cincinnati, Lima and Youngstown, facing trial on the same charges, expressed their determination to serve jail sentences rather than pay fines.

The Merchants outplayed their rivals in the first half and were leading 14 to 10 at the end of the first 20 minutes of play. In the final period however the Springfield combination strengthened on offense and defense and scored nine points to six for Xenia, but the visitors just fell one point short in order to tie the score. PIQUA WINS OVER XENIA HIGH FIVE BY SCORE OF 37-26

Piqua High School basketball team was just 11 points better than Xenia Central High at the conclusion of the court festivities at the new high gym Friday night, the locals being on the short end of the 37 to 26 count that decided the conflict.

A pair of speedy and shifty forwards who always managed to get somewhere near the territory of the Pivot, hoop just ahead of the ball, played a large part in the offensive power of the visiting aggregation. The trouble that has beset the pathway of the blue and white five all season to date, that of locating the ne, proved again to be the downfall of Coach Earl Burgner's outfit, for the visiting defense was not tight enough to keep the Xenians from shooting but the latter experienced considerable difficulty in making their shots good.

Time after time shots propelled by the Xenia cagers went wide of the mark, while several were pure back-luck specimens. Piqua cut in for a little tough luck in hitting the hoop also, but they did locate the basket so regularly that the misses were insignificant. Captain Edge was the most consistent performer in the offensive work of the visitors, while Fisher's tossing of seven fouls out of eight attempts was exceptional. Purucker at center did not shine so brilliantly yet he scored well up. Gavin played well on the defense.

Sound was the mainspring in the local offense in spite of the fact that he was not able to consistently find the buckets until late in the affray. Repeatedly his shots were wide of the mark or rolled off the edge in the first half, but his reversal of form in the second period netted him five baskets and two fouls out of four attempts for the game. Woolary played well, especially in the first half, and Smith showed decided improvement. Zell played hard and consistently at guard. Perrine gave indication that he might be used more frequently with good results.

Piqua scored first on Edge's bucket in the first two minutes of play and Zell knotted the count a moment later. Fouls by Fisher gave the visitors a slender lead that was not supplemented until late in the period. Schwab's basket was the initial counter in the second period, but it was not until too late in this half that the locals got started. The game was the cleanest played here this season, Xenia plays Urbana High at Urbana Saturday night. The lineup and summary.

KLAN ORDERED TO STAY AWAY FROM BROOKLYN

New York, Jan. 27.—District Attorney Dodd of Kings county issued a warning to members of the Ku Klux Klan that they must give up their allegiance to the "invisible empire" or get out of Brooklyn.

The warning was voiced at the arraignment of eight alleged members of the "Inner Circle" of the Klan, who were arrested by members of the police bomb squad after they had attended what their counsel admitted to have been a Klan meeting. They were held in $1,500 bail for further examination, seven on charges of possessing black jacks and one on a charge of having a bottle of whisky in the automobile in which all were arrested.

The first persons rounded up by the police since Mayor Hylan's order to drive the Klan from the city gave these names in court: Alfred C. Clarke, John F. Collins, a chauffeur; Ellisworth B. Morse, an assistant manager; William D. M. Simons, advertising manager of a large typewriter manufacturing concern; John M. Gilmore, a photographer; Thomas Jones, a salesman; Charles T. Mulford, a bank clerk; and Robert Fischer, 19, claiming to be a student at Pratt institute.

Counsel for some of the defendants demanded an immediate hearing, but Magistrate Dale refused until he was told of the presence of the blackjacks in the car after the men had departed from the meeting, which, it was learned, was held in a building owned by a Masonic organization and occupied in the daytime by the Brooklyn traffic court. William Haddon, superintendent of the building, said the owners had leased the hall to a group known as the Brooklyn Circle club and that he never thought the organization was part of the Klan.

FAMOUS AUTOS TO PLAY DAYTON FIVE-OTHER SPORT CHAT

The Dabco basketball team, leader of the Industrial League in Dayton, will furnish the opposition for George Haller's Famous Autos in next week's encounter.

The game to be played Tuesday evening following a Municipal League preliminary will be stage at the Central High gym, and will give fans an opportunity to determine superiority between the two Dayton Leagues that are taking the attention of cage fans in that city.

The Dabcos represent the Dayton Air Bruch Company in the Industrial League and are out in front of the pack, maintaining their leadership Thursday night by defeating the Delcos 24 to 22. The Delcos generally lineup with Tim Cramer, Haas, or Wilowite at the forwards, Wassenich at center and Eichner, Scott or Flyer at the guards.

The Famous Autos have now disposed of most of the so-called crack teams of this section and are constantly reaching out for new worlds to conquer.

In taking on the Dabcos they are picking the cream of the Industrial League talent which may mean that the undefeated Auto aggregation will have to draw teams from a greater area in order to get real opposition in the future.

Women will be admitted free to the Friday game.

An entire re-organization of the John Roan Post, No. 517, American Legion basketball team, was made known Friday with the announcement that Coach Dean Mohr of Wilberforce University has taken over the management of the club from Ollis Thomas and Orville Watkins and will handle the destinies of the five in the future.

Simultaneous with this announcement comes the statement of Coach Mohr that he has engaged Sol Butler, star of the New York Defenders and formerly of the Chicago Defenders, and one of the best-known colored athletes in the country, to play with the Legion five during the rest of the season. Games booked for the remainder of the season will run the schedule into March and include some of the fastest white and colored teams in the country.

Although the complete lineup of the rejuvenated Legion five has not been announced, it is assured that Joe Anderson, Xenia's sensational forward and Thornton Winters, formerly of the Chicago Defenders and a former basketball star at Englewood High School, Chicago will be found at the forwards.

George Duff, formerly of the Chicago Defenders will be used at Center while Butler, the Olympic star will be used at one of the guards. Anderson has been with the Legion two years, while Duff and Winters have been playing with the team for the last few games. Butler came here with the New York Defenders and was signed by the local management.

Coach Mohr, new manager of the team, is now making arrangements for games with the Peerless Athletic Club, formerly the Y. M. C. A. team of Cincinnati; Lorendi, of Pittsburgh; Evanston "Y" of Evanston, Ill.; Indianapolis "Y"; the Ledger Big Five of Indianapolis; Famous Autos of this city; DeSoto Council, Knights of Columbus, of Chicago; South Bend Y. M. C. A.; Mary Gardens of Chicago; Holstein Merzions of Chicago; Rosebume Club of Cleveland, and other high class attractions.

KEPT LONG VIGIL BESIDE VICRIM'S BODY

Mrs. Alice H. Middleton and Maltby's Home.

Months ago Mrs. Alice Middleton deserted her husband and went to live in the apartment of James Maltby, a London (England) tailor, in Park Road. Regents Park. For six months no trace was seen of her. Maltby, meantime barricaded himself in his home and boarded up the building. The police were notified and for weeks kept ceaseless watch. No water, gas nor food was supplied. Finally health authorities ordered the "besiegers" to break into the house. As they entered Maltby killed himself. It was discovered he had murdered the woman and kept her body for months in a bathtub, over which he had prepared his meals on a tiny stove.

Health, Delinquency And Child Training Discussed At Joint W.C.T.U. Meet

Over 60 women, members of the A. C. Turrell and Xenia Unions of the W. C. T. U., attended the joint all-day meeting of the organizations at the home of Mrs. D. S. Ervin, 248 North King Street, Friday. Opening at ten o'clock in the morning, with devotions in charge of Mrs. C. L. Spencer, the entire day was devoted to a program of interesting talks and discussions. Mrs. John Ary, of the Xenia union, presided over the morning program, with Mrs. Walter Dean presiding in the afternoon.

The present epidemic of grip and influenza, was the subject of the talk given by Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, during the morning session, emphasizing the importance of precaution, proper food and warmth.

Mrs. Alta Lewis, president of the Clinton County W. C. T. U. Union, was another interesting speaker of the meeting, telling of the Red Cross work throughout the county, and the methods followed in completing an efficient organization.

The work of the W. C. T. U. Unions, over the county, in the jails and institutions, was explained by Mrs. Robert Terrell, evangelistic superintendent of the county. Mrs. Terrell told how each union of the Greene County W. C. T. U., is preparing a "hope chest" for the inmates of jails and institutions, containing articles of comfort. Mrs. A. W. Jamieson, was in charge of the noonday prayer which preceded a covered dish dinner.

The workings of the Juvenile Court, the growth of that branch of the law, and the co-operation of other allied bodies, were explained by Judge J. Carl Marshall, as a feature of the afternoon meeting. According to Judge Marshall, the Juvenile Court was conceived in the minds of three women in Chicago 25 years ago, as a rebellion against the old system of treating the delinquent child as an adult. The agitation against the old method led to the proper training of the child mind by good people, co-operation of parents and authorities, according to the speaker. The name "Juvenile Court" is a misnomer for the court, said Judge Marshall, since the work of the court is similar to that of a welfare league.

The speaker urged co-operation of organizations and individuals in correcting the delinquency, pointing out the cost of the child to the state and county, which averages three million yearly to feed the people in institutions of the state.

"To secure the future of our own children we must secure the future of all children," declared the speaker. "Without the support of laws nothing can be secure," he said.

Judge Marshall urged proper Americanization of foreigners who come to the shores of the United States, and the keeping out of all undesirable.

Mrs. Raymond Wolf, who was in charge of the musical program of the day, gave one selection. Mrs. Lewis of Wilmington also gave a short talk in the afternoon, concerning the educational work of the W. C. T. U. in Clinton County.

The problem of delinquency was also handled by Miss Lulu Sollers, of the Dayton police department. According to Miss Sollers, the ages for delinquent girls has risen during the past few years, from 15 and 18 years to from 13 to 15, on the average. The co-operation of the W. C. T. U. and other organizations with the authorities was also urged by Miss Sollers.

Mrs. J. H. Benbow gave an interesting paper during the afternoon, on the obligation of the Parent-Teacher Association, and the work being furthered by that organization in the city public schools to combat malnutrition. The closing features of the program, included a talk by Miss Anna McCracken, who spoke of the advance of welfare and social work, and Miss Mary Ervin, concerning the Child Welfare work of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Patterson, of Evanston, Ill., a guest at the meeting gave an interesting short talk, telling of temperance work in Evanston, where the only public temperance hall in the United States is erected.

At the session Friday, members of both W. C. T. U. organizations adopted the curfew law, as presented by the Juvenile Court, and urged by school organizations.

WILBERFORCE

Miss Alice Smith, who has been in the hospital is able to be out again and resume her studies.

Miss Rowena Green spent the weekend with her parents in Loveland. The young ladies who resided in Mitchell Hall and are members of the basketball team, were hostesses to the members of the team from Cincinnati, last Saturday.

Mrs. Lenora Lane and Miss Coleman, who were ill with la grippe, are now able to resume their teaching duties.

Mrs. F. A. McGinnis has returned from Detroit, Mich., where she was called by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Allen.

Mrs. Luella Graham, secretary to President Gregg, was taken to the hospital, in Xenia, Monday. She was threatened with pneumonia, but is reported better.

Mr. W. A. Anderson, Jr., the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson, one of the popular young men of the community, surprised his friends by quietly motoring to Wilmington a few days ago and being united in marriage with Miss Ruby Stewart.

Supt. W. M. Berry and Pres. J. A. Gregg, motored to Greenfield, Ohio, Thursday evening, to attend a meeting called by Rev. Charles Gee of that place to start classes in extension work.

Dr. J. A. Gregg, President of the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools, returned from Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, last week, where he attended the executive meeting of the Association to make the program for the next meeting, which will be held in Tuskegee Institute, July 25th, 26th and 27th. A number of the teachers of the University anticipate attending the sessions.

The executive board of the University held a meeting Tuesday in the office of Secretary Carl Jenkins. The principal business was to look after the completion of the New Shorter Hall. Those in attendance were Bishop J. H. Jones; President John A. Gregg and Mr. Carl Jenkins of Wilberforce; Rev. W. H. H. Butler of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Rev. T. D. Scott, of Springfield; Bishop J. M. Conner of Little Rock, Ark.; and Rev. R. E. Wilson of Chicago.

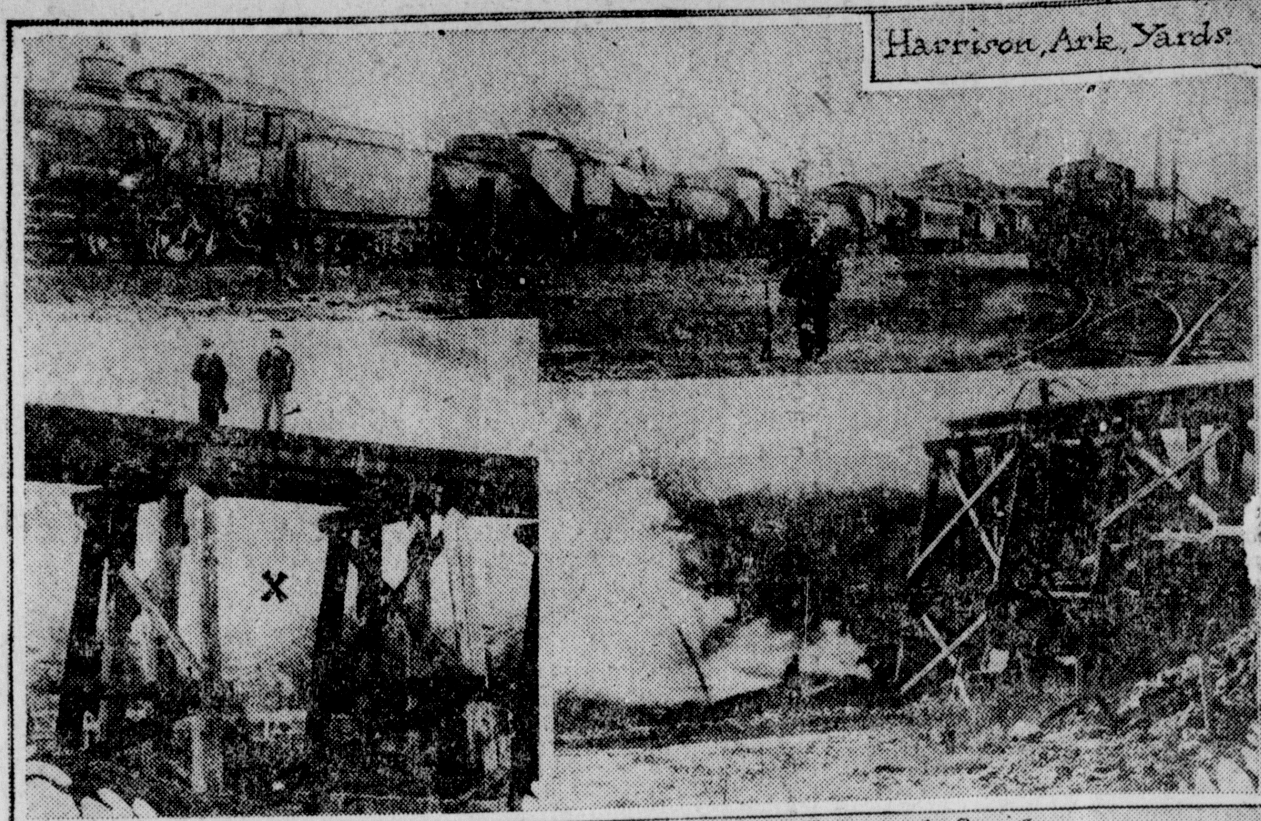

The citizens of the community and the students of the University are experiencing a malady similar to influenza or la grippe. The teachers report a daily decrease of attendance in their classes. The regular Wednesday evening paper meeting has been discontinued for the time being. Dr. Harry Lackey, the physician of the school, and Mrs. Yarber, the nurse at Tawawa Hospital, report that the wards are filled and the staff is unable to care for any more patients in the hospital just now.

Bishop J. H. Jones and Dean Geo. F. Woodson returned from Philadelphia the last of the week. They attended the funeral of Bishop Benjamin Tucker Tanner, who died on the 14th inst. Bishop Tanner was the oldest bishop on the bench, but has retired from active service. He was the father of the noted artist, Henry Ossawa Tanner, who resides in Paris, France. Many of his paintings occupy prominent places in the Art Galleries of Europe.

Mrs. Geo. F. Woodson of the public schools, gave a very interesting talk to the students for the Commercial Club last week. She talked on "The Experience of a Woman on a Jury." Mrs. Woodson was one of the party of women who recently served on the jury in the trial of ex-Sheriff Funderburgh. She refrained from disclosing any of the secrets of the jury in the trial of ex-Sheriff over the case in the room, trying to reach a verdict. She laid stress on the solemnity of an oath, the importance of hearing the evidence, remembering the points of interest and matters of fact, and the responsibility of not only rendering a fair and impartial verdict but also, service to the people in general. As a whole it was a very instructive talk to the students of that department.

Mr. Sully James, President, Mr. Ormond Forte, of Cleveland, and Rev. H. F. Williams, members of the C. N. and I. Board, were at the school, Saturday when the Finance Committee of the House of Representatives made their visit to learn the needs of the C. N. and I. Department. Xenia's birth and death rate both increased during the month of December, while the infant mortality rate was decreased, according to figures made public by Dr. E. J. Schwartz, chief of the Division of Vital Statistics of Ohio.

There was only one infant death, the infant mortality rate lowering from November's .58 to .38 in December.

During December there were eight deaths in Wilmington and but five in Washington, C. H. Greene County stood second in the state among the highest death rates, Madison being first with 2.33, Greene second with 1.70, and Morgan third with 1.69. Morrow had the lowest death rate, that of .32. The death rates of the six largest cities are as follows: Cleveland, .93; Cincinnati, 1.51; Toledo, 1.05; Columbus, 1.28; Akron, .69 and Dayton, 1.33. The birthrate of the six largest cities follows: Cleveland, 1.33; Cincinnati, 1.55; Toledo, 1.57; Cincinnati, 1.55; Toledo, 1.57; Cincinnati, 2.19; Akron, 1.70 and Dayton, 2.25.

PREDICTS FAILURE OF NEAR EAST MEET

Lausanne, Jan. 27.—Riza Nur, a radical member of the Turkish delegation, declared that failure of the near east conference is certain. In other responsible quarters, however, hope of a satisfactory outcome was expressed.

Asked if war would follow the breakdown of the conference, Riza Nur said: "God only knows. I am furious that our months of hard work here should be for nothing."

The time apparently is not yet ripe for active American mediation, but the Americans stand ready to help in securing a permanent peace for the near east. The Mosul controversy remains the thorniest before the conference. The Turks may be asked to accept on this point the decision of a special arbitration commission, of which an American jurist would be the neutral member.

The Russian delegation issued a statement to the effect that Russia would not sign the straits treaty.

The Bulgarians threw a bomb into Balkan circles, and incidentally into the allied ranks, by officially informing all the powers that Bulgaria flatly refuses to accept the outlet to the Aegean sea as arranged by the allies.

LABOR TO SUPPORT BILL FOR PUBLIC CONTROL OF MINES

Washington, Jan. 27.—Organized labor will support the bill for complete government control and operation of all coal mines, bituminous and anthracite, during a national emergency, which has been introduced in the senate by Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, are understood to approve it and favor its enactment at the present session of congress.

Brookhart admitted that his measure was designed to give the president power to take over the mines in event that another general strike of coal miners results from failure of the operators and miners to agree on wages. The president is empowered to carry out agreements and contracts between operators and other persons or corporations for the purchase and delivery of coal so far as they do not conflict with the public interest.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

TWO DIVERS ENTERTAINMENTS

CHAPTER 89
That Walter had sent Vashti Vernon flowers meant little. Then he was angry because I had found it out, that he had tried to deceive me by saying he had brought some for the studio, meant a good deal.

When poor Helen Ralstrom had been concerned he had been singularly truthful and frank, even if angry, as it was his nature to be.

His attempted deceit almost frightened me and made me very unhappy. I wished over and over that I had paid the bill and said nothing. But as I have said before, it is hard for a wife to be always tactful.

"Miss Vernon has asked me to drop in at the opera tonight," Walter said a few days afterward. He had been sulky ever since the talk regarding the florist's bill.

"She has an extra seat in the box loaned her by some friend."

"That will be enjoyable," his mother said. "What is the opera?"

"Boheme."

"It is one of my favorites," his mother went on, saving me the need of speaking.

What were young girls thinking of, I wondered, to invite married men without their wives?

I never would have thought of doing such a thing! Of course people did things in New York they didn't do in a little Massachusetts town. I should have been ostracized for such an action there.

Walter seemed not to notice my silence and whistled and hummed all the time he was dressing. He was pleased that he was to spend the evening with Vashti I had often heard him say. Opera bored him that he could scarcely sit through it.

"Too bad she didn't have two seats,"

he said to me. "But don't look so disappointed."

I was glad he took my seriousness as disappointment, so replied:

"You know how I love opera."

"Oh, well, you have plenty of time to go. The winter is young."

I said no more, but when he went out throwing me a gay "good night. Don't sit up." I went to my room and had a good cry.

He had left very early, probably would stop and get flowers for Vashti perhaps go to the hotel for her. I pictured them together, Vashti in one of those wonderful evening gowns she affected; gowns no one but she could wear effectively, and in which she was ravishing. I saw the appeal her beauty, so enhanced, would have for Walter and it seemed almost more than I could bear.

Mrs. Page called to me:

"What are you doing Doreen?"

"Nothing particular, why?" I hurriedly bathed my eyes.

"There's a picture around the corner I should like to see. Mary and Jennie are both in. Get on your things and we'll go and see it."

How I hated the idea! I in a cheap Motion Picture House with his mother while Walter was in a box at the opera with Vashti Vernon. I, in my plain clothes; she in evening dress. But I knew if I refused Mrs. Page would be both cross and inquisitive. So with a sigh I put on my things and joined her.

Unfortunately the picture, what I saw of it, was not calculated to add to my happiness.

A neglected wife striving to hold a husband who was in love with another woman. Her pitiful attempts to make herself beautiful, to please him. Her failure at every turn. Even though she did at the last succeed

"pictures must end happily, if un-

truthfully—he had given all that was best in him to the other woman. It was only after the other woman had thrown him off; shown herself utterly unworthy, that he thought of the faithful, patient wife.

To make it worse for me the man in the picture was a good deal like Walter, gay, inconsequential, lovable.

Mrs. Page was delighted with the picture.

"The right always wins in the end," she said as we walked home in the clear starlit night.

"But is it worth winning, them?" I asked, scarcely knowing what I said.

"Of course it is! That poor tried woman had her reward for all she suffered in knowing he turned to her in the end."

I wondered!

All Packed Up and Ready for Trip Home From Germany

WHEN France started to invade the Ruhr, the United States recalled the small force of troops she has had on German soil since the war ended. The men frankly hated to go. A number have taken German wives. Their pay, translated into German money, has been affluence. They're shown here packed and ready for their departure.

This Silk Gown Hand Painted She'll Pick Her Own Husband

MILDRED WEN, daughter of a rich Chinese merchant of Washington, was engaged to marry George Num Lee, also rich, also Chinese, of New York. On the eve of what was to have been her wedding day, she vanished. At first it was thought she was kidnaped, victim of "tong" violence. Later it developed that Miss Wen, displeased because, Chinese style, she had not been consulted as to whom she was to marry, had gone of her own accord. She says she's a true American girl and will select her own husband.

THIS gown, one of the latest creations for the coming spring, is of silk fiber knit, hand painted. It is black and white and decidedly startling in the effect it gives.

FREE SEEDS

Historic American institution passes out. No more free seeds will be mailed by the government to the voters back home. The appropriation for free seeds, Congress has rescinded its decision that seeds fail as vote getters. The decision was hastened by Alice's recent defeat in the Congressional elections, and the fact that she mailed enough free seeds to Oklahoma to fill the state's prisons.

Seeds have, for years, been a bone of political contention. It may be true, as one side argues, that distributing free seeds merely makes all taxpayers help pay for a congressman's re-election. It may or may not be true that the seeds sprout into some votes.

But somehow we cannot help thinking that, regardless of the purposes for which they were mailed, these free seeds have done about as much ultimate good as any other way of spending Uncle Sam's money. For there are very few people who can resist planting a package of seeds. And a lot of good garden truck and beautiful flowers have sprouted from Sam's free seeds and helped make this a more beautiful and enjoyable world.

The Senate, by killing the appropriation for free seeds, saves the country $360,000 in the next fiscal year. Too bad, the saving wasn't made by eliminating some of the printed speeches and other political buncombe sent postage-free through the mails by congressmen. A lot of this printed matter is worth the free postage. But average it up and it's a slim crop compared with what comes from free seeds.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I will soon be sixteen years old. Am I old enough to correspond with boys? I have a boy friend and I like him very much and I know he thinks a lot of me. My folks do not like him and they don't want me to like him, but I can't forget him.

Is it wrong for us to correspond in secret by his sister sending letters back and forth in her letters? Is it wrong to go horseback riding with this boy and his sister?

Should I allow him to call me pet names such as "Cutie" and "Sweetie"? I never have had a boy friend I liked any better than him—I really love him.

WANDERING JEW.

You ought to know without writing to me what answer I would give to your question. A secret correspondence with the boy would be wrong and it would also be wrong to go horseback riding with him against the wishes of your parents.

It is all right for a girl of sixteen to correspond with boys if she lets her mother pass judgment on the letters she writes and receives. It is so easy to put into writing things which would be better unsaid. Any girl who lets her mother advise her in this matter is thankful in later years.

"Cutie" and "Sweetie" are such inept and cheap pet names I should think you would resent them. Besides you are too young to let a boy call you pet names.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl and have been keeping steady company with a young gentleman for some time. I think a great deal of him. He is a very decent, upright young man, but has a peculiar fault. My parents insist that he leave the house at a certain time, but he seems offended every time I tell him so and pays no attention to it whatsoever. He thinks I am in an awful hurry to get rid of him. I can't make him see it differently.

How can I make him leave without hurting his feelings?

A READER.

The next time you have to tell the young man to go home say that it is not easy for you to tell him he must go, but that you must obey the order of your father. Tell him that he will make it easier for you if he takes what you say in the spirit it is said and does not feel resentful.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of nineteen and am in love with a boy twenty-one. He has been married, but divorced. He tells me he loves me, but does things I do not like. I have never gone anywhere with him, but have met him places.

Does he really love me and does he do these things to make me mad? Is it right for me to love him?

SUNSHINE.

The young man does not love you. If he did he would meet you at your home and take you places. His intentions are not honorable, judging from what you have said.

Never go places to meet a man. If he is unwilling to go to your home and meet your parents, you may be sure something is wrong with his character.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My husband doesn't know how to read or write. I would like to teach him. Will you please tell me how to go about it? What shall I begin with? He is not very old yet. Will I have to buy books to begin with?

THANK YOU.

Inquire of the principal of a grade school. There you will receive advice about methods and books to buy. I presume you will need one or two books. They will be inexpensive, however.

"But he's coming rawther early for a girlie who sleeps late
"So if you're waking call me, ma, so' I won't miss this date.

"When you see him you'll know why ma, that I've gone off my nut.

LET'S step inside the money booth, at a moving picture show, and join the girl who sells the tickets there. Let's get an inkling of the truth of what this girl must know of men who see the afternoon affair.

Where do these fellows come from and, just why are they free to spend their time and money at a show, when other men are working, say, for instance, you and me? That's just the point that I would like to know.

We eye a dapper fellow who is buying just one seat. He pulls a roll of money from his jeans. Perhaps his dad is wealthy and is paying for the treat while son admires the moving picture queens.

And still another fellow, rather old but, yet quite spry, will purchase tickets for himself and wife. The world can know he's loafing and the world can pass on by, for he's retired and now's enjoying life.

And so we watch the men folks who are long on matinees. It may, or not be truth that we've unfurled. But, just the same, a lot of folks are filled with funny ways. It takes these kind of folks to make a world.

"MAKE GREENE COUNTY GREEN" SLOGAN FOR ALFALFA CAMPAIGN WHICH WILL BE STARTED IN RURAL COMMUNITIES FEBRUARY 5 TO 10

The slogan "Make Greene County Green" will be carried out with acres upon acres of waving alfalfa, over the fields of Greene County, next summer, according to plans of the Greene County Farm Bureau, in one of the most carefully planned campaigns, in rural communities, to be staged February 5 to 10.

The secret of the mysterious slogan, which has been flaunted before Greene County residents in the past several weeks, was divulged this week by County Agent Ford S. Prince, who recognized the few words as valuable and applicable in attracting the attention of everyone in the coming campaign.

Within the dates announced by Mr. Prince, an extensive program will be carried on by the county Farm Bureau through out the county, in an effort to urge the growing of alfalfa and its value as a feeding product.

Outside speakers have been secured to come to Greene County during that week, and they will be present at meetings to be staged over the county. Free movies will be shown at each meeting, dealing with the value of alfalfa. The schedule of the meetings, and the topics to be handled by the speakers will be announced by County Agent Prince next week.

NAMED ASSISTANT SHIPPING MANAGER

Frank Wardlow, prominent member of the Greene County Farm Bureau, and allied with several farmer projects, has been appointed assistant manager of the Greene County Shippers' Company, it was announced this week.

Mr. Wardlow is from Sugarcreek Township, and operates a farm in Warren County. For the past three years he has been president of the Sugarcreek Township Farm Bureau, is master of the Bellbrook Grange, and has been Greene County's trustee, in the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association. He is an active booster of co-operative marketing and will advance this project in his new position.

He will enter his work February 1.

FARMERS' WEEKS TAKES PRECEDENCE OVER FARM MEETINGS IN COUNTY

The Ohio Farmers' Week at the Ohio State University has caused a shut-down on Farm Bureau meeting in Greene County, full sway given the rural residents to attend the state session, to be held the week of January 29.

Of particular importance among the features of the Columbus meeting, will be the meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Tuesday and Wednesday, at which time the annual election of officers will be held, and reports of officers heard.

Greene County is entitled to three voting delegates at the meeting, those appointed including President of the County Farm Bureau, W. B. Bryson; W. M. Hardman, Miami township; George W. Glass, Ross township; B. U. Bell Xenia township; with the following alternates: John Munger Beavercreek township; E. E. Finney, Cedarville township, and Lampton Smith, Sugarcreek township.

BREED ASSOCIATIONS ANNOUNCE PROGRAMS

Most recent of 17 Ohio agricultural organizations to announce programs for annual meeting to be held during Farmers' Week, Jan. 29-Feb. 2, at the Ohio State University, Columbus, are the State associations of Ayrshire and of Guernsey breeders.

CROPS COMMITTEE OF FARM BUREAU TO FORM AN ORGANIZATION IN THIS CITY WHERE LOCAL FARMERS MAY BRING GRAIN FOR ANALYSIS

The establishment of a central seed corn testing station in Xenia, was decided on at the meeting of the Greene County Farm Bureau, held last Saturday, at the County Farm Bureau office.

The plan, as laid at the meeting, is to build two testers with a capacity of 25 bushels each. The testing work will be begun February 15, and will continue until corn planting time. The testers are to be built by Fred R. Keeler, of the Smith-Hughes department at Beavercreek High School, assisted by boys of that school. Following their completion they will be brought to Xenia where they will be placed in a room secured for the work.

A charge of one cent an ear will be charged all men entering corn to be tested at the station, for the purpose of defraying expenses of renting the room, and furnishing heat and light, and the employment necessary. It is planned to test over 50,000 ears or over 500 bushels of seed corn. The station will effect 10 townships in the county, as Beavercreek has its own station, and Bath township is establishing its own at the co-operative elevator at Osborn. Altogether, the three stations will test in the neighborhood of 100,000 ears of corn. Accurate yields secured from several demonstration fields, during the 1922 season, lead to the estimate that at least a 500 bushel increase will be secured for having seed corn tested. A charge of a cent an ear means a cost of 15 cents an acre for testing, from which a 500 bushel corn yield increase will be secured.

Persons desiring to have seed corn tested at the Xenia station should get in touch with their township crop committeemen, the following committees being stationed in each township: Elmer Hetsel, Xenia; C. N. Fudge, New Jasper; Howard Faulkner, Caesarcreek; Leslie Smith, Spring Valley; Henry B. Weller, Sugarcreek; M. K. Ritenour, Ross; Meryl Stomont, Cedarville; L. O. Stover, Miami. The committeemen in Silvercreek and Jefferson townships, have not been appointed. Further details of the location of the station will be announced by County Agent Prince later.

WHEN FARMING PAYS

An Analysis of the Economic, Political and Social Conditions Which Make Farming Profitable

Corn is coming into its own.

The corn crop is America's largest crop in bushels, and cornfields greet the eye in every part of the great Middle West. Sometimes they stretch for miles without interruption. Corn exports in until recent years were trifling but of late they have been increased until shipments reached 166,000,000 bushels in a single year.

The American Indian grew corn but never on a large scale. Prior to the rise of European civilization on the continent of North America corn had been raised in Mexico and Peru.

Various American farmers in days gone by have made their contribution to the culture of corn, points out a leading breeders' journal. Few monuments have ever been erected by a grateful public to practical farmers in this country, but these men helped to lay the foundations of a great industry just as surely as James J. Hill laid the foundation of a great railroad system and John Wanamaker set in place the keystone of the modern system of department stores.

The department of Agriculture quotes from Sir Horace Plunkett, the Irish leader, who is making a survey of agricultural conditions in this country, words which touch the root of the country-city problem.

"Every year that passes it becomes harder to keep young men on the farm. You have got to brighten country life by making it a really progressive social and intellectual life. This depends mainly upon education, but a fundamental principle is that you don't try to bring into the country the things of the city. All these things develop so much more rapidly in the city than they possibly can in the country that the more you introduce them in the country the more you widen the gap in these respects between the country and the city. You must get the country people to realize the inherent interest in the science of agriculture, in plant and animal life—try to get them interested in the beauties of the country."

Too many people try to bring the city into the country, not realizing that each has its place and function separate from the other. The farmer or small townsmen need not apologize for the country. Its possessions are of priceless value. City men and women spend millions every year to see its hills and lakes and breathe its invigorating air, which the farmers living nearabout have sometimes failed to count among their blessings. The country is the seat of inspiration and the source of physical and mental power.

In a practical way the country is not one whit behind the city. Its fields produce the foodstuffs upon which the mills and factories, belching smoke and earning billions, depend for their existence. The farmer may become well-to-do and rich in peace of mind, in natural beauty in healthy living and in fine memories and associations.

The science of agriculture is attaining a dignity and importance comparable to that of engineering or medicine. Agriculture will take its place among the other callings toward which ambitious young men look with hope and expectation.

"Free seeds" are nearing their end. "Free seeds" were intended to placate constituents and obtain votes. But the farmers have come to realize that nothing of value is ever really "free." The custom of distributing free seeds dates back a quarter of a century. Posterity will look upon it as one of the curiosities of history.

STATE DAIRY FARMERS TO STRESS MARKETING

The marketing of milk and its products by farmer-controlled co-operatives is given emphasis in a program of 14 addresses announced today by officers of the Ohio State Dairymen's Association for the annual meeting of that body which is to be held Jan. 30, the second day of Farmers' Week, or the campus of the Ohio State University, Columbus.

Greene County farmers will be interested in the program, which is in line with their work with the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Association.

CLUB KIDS GREW $541,704 WORTH

Final figures on the "land army" of 26,370 Ohio farm youngsters who in 1922 worked in farm and home club projects under the directions of the agricultural extension service of the Ohio State University, have been given out by the University.

Products raised or made by the children are valued at $541,704, according to current market prices. Prizes to a value of $41,000, derived entirely from the donations of banks, fair boards, Farm Bureaus and like groups were distributed to the boys and girls who had the best records.

RECORD SEED CORN OFFERED AS PRIZE

An innovation of the coming State Corn and Grain Show, to be held during Farmers' Week, Jan. 29-Feb. 2, at the Ohio State University, will be prizes of the best corn and grain seed available in Ohio, offered for this purpose by seed breeders of the State.

Among these prize lots of seed is a half-bushel lot of Woodburn's Yellow Dent corn, taken from the crop of the field on which William Gilmore of Licking County last year broke the world's record for yield by raising 1343 bushels of air-dried, shelled grain on ten acres.

the committee hopes to enter 35 members with calves this year, making a bigger and better show than the initial exhibit last year. Any boy or girl, wishing to enter the contest should consult with one of the committee members at once. The committee is composed of M. R. Grinnell, Walter Ferguson, F. B. Turnbull and James H. Hawkins.

The club is financed by the members buying the stock at nine cents per pound, local banks taking the notes of club members. The stock is insured against loss.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT SPRING VALLEY IS MARKED WITH SUCCESS

Although sickness caused a large decrease in attendance, the Spring Valley Farmers' Institute, held Monday and Tuesday at Spring Valley, the first of the county series, was marked with a good program and many enjoyable features. During the afternoon and evening meetings of the two-day session, the attendance increased, many farmers coming out to hear the principal speakers, Clarence Henry of Hebron, Ohio; Arthur Dawson, South Euclid; and Mrs. Mary Cartright of Delaware. Music was furnished both days by a first class orchestra, composed of musicians from the various townships.

Edward Bogan, was elected institute president, for the coming year; Charles Mendenhall, being elected vice-president; Lawrence Evans, secretary and Mrs. Helen Sheehan, woman correspondent.

The corn show held in connection with the institute, while low in exhibits, was of good quality, judged by W. M. Hardman of Yellow Springs, who gave a talk Tuesday explaining his decisions in awarding the five prizes. Prizes were awarded; Harve Compton, first; Lawrence Soward, second; Paul Hall, third; Paul Hall, fourth; Paul Hall, fifth.

FRENCH DECLARE MARTIAL LAW

Uses These Troops
MATTER OF POLICY
May Be Move Aimed at German Resistance in Districts

Washington, Jan. 27.—Contrary to her previously announced policy, France is now using colonial troops in the Ruhr, according to official advice received at the German embassy here today, from Berlin.

The troops in question are declared to be Moroccans, whom the French have always regarded as among the best of their colonial forces.

The French authorities have always insisted that Moroccan troops should not be classed as "black," though the Poincare government nevertheless announced at the beginning of the present occupation that only Frenchmen of white race would be used in the movement.

It is assumed here that the decision to use the Moroccans was prompted either by the resistance encountered from the German authorities or by the fact that it was found necessary to use more troops than was at first expected.

French military authorities insist the Moroccans are noted for their fine spirit of discipline. Those who were in the occupation territory before the movement into the Ruhr, they declare were more popular with the German population than were the native French soldiers.

The attacks directed against the use of colonial troops in Germany, the French authorities say, are merely German propaganda designed to arouse hostility to France in America and elsewhere. During the recent visit of Georges Clemenceau, when opposition to the use of black troops in Germany was already extensive, Clemenceau announced he had official assurances from the French government that no black troops were being used.

"The Tiger" defended the Moroccans as being of the white race, but stated he had recommended to M. Poincare that as a matter of policy even the Moroccans be kept out of Germany.

This estate, known as Waverly, belonged to George Fayette Washington, descendant of the first president and it has required sixty years to finally determine the legal heirs, who number nineteen. The land will be sold under the auctioneer's hammer, but the prized homelands will be disposed of at a private sale.

Premier Bethlen, of Hungary, has sent a circular to the Allies notifying them that "the little entente is making dangerous war preparations."

HELD BY POLICE
AS BODY FOUND

Bellevue, O., Jan. 27.—Tom Bruno is being held by police here today, following the digging of a baby's body in his yard yesterday. William Grasse, father of Mrs. Bruno, instigated an official search which resulted in the finding of the body, and declares, police say, that the child was born alive and strangled.

Grasse's revelations on charges followed a quarrel with his daughter and her husband. Prosecuting Attorney Allen Agler will be asked to investigate upon his return from Columbus this afternoon.

The rail men called to the colors were told that their period of service would be 23 days.

TERRIFIC BLAST
TAKES ONE LIFE
IN NEWARK, N. J.

Still Explosion Wrecks Garage—Start Investigation.

Newark, Jan. 27.—One man was killed, a one story brick garage wrecked and about 125 families driven in panic from their homes early today when a terrific explosion occurred in the garage. The explosion is believed by the police to have been caused by a still which was operated in the garage.

The roof of the garage was lifted several feet in the air by the force of the explosion and fell into the interior. Flames broke out and when the firemen extinguished they found the burned body of an unidentified man under the debris.

A wrecked still was found lying in a pool of water. Three other stills were found, each in a corner of the garage. At least two of them had exploded.

Fire, police and prohibition officials have started an investigation.

NOT GUILTY IS
YOUTHS' PLEA
IN WILMINGTON

Two Charged With Murder Are Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Louis Vandervoort, 26, near Jamestown, and his cousin, Walter Bangham, 20, of Port William, entered pleas of not guilty to affidavits charging with first degree murder in connection with the death of Emory Creight, Wilmington policeman, last February 15, when they were arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. I. Stewart in Wilmington Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

At the same time, Archie Glass, 21, and Frank Moorman, 20, of near Jamestown, confessed accomplices of Vandervoort in one or more of a series of robberies he is said to have admitted perpetrating, were arraigned with Vandervoort on charges of burglary and larceny in connection with the robbery of the Isadore Kauffman Syndicate store in Wilmington last fall. All three pleaded not guilty.

Vandervoort and Bangham waived preliminary examination on the murder charges and were bound over to the Clinton County Grand Jury without bond. Vandervoort, Glass and Moorman, waived preliminary examination on the charges of burglary and larceny and were also bound over their bonds being fixed at $1,000 each.

The bond fixed in the case of Vandervoort on the burglary and larceny charge means nothing as he is held without bond on the murder charge. Moorman and Glass may obtain their temporary release by furnishing the amount of the bonds, although they had produced bondsmen at noon Saturday. The arraignment was made in the office of the Clinton County Jail before Squire Stewart instead of the Common Pleas Court room as scheduled. The large crowd expected to be present at the hearing was disappointed as the arraignment was made quietly and few were in attendance.

Whether a special session of the Grand Jury would be called to consider the case, is not known, and Clinton County authorities were unable to say if that plan would be carried out Saturday. The Grand Jury is not in session now. With the murder charge placed against Vandervoort he will probably never be tried on the burglary and larceny charge on which he was arraigned and Washington C. H. authorities will not press the charge of holding up the Christopher drug store in that city December 9, on which charge Vandervoort was originally placed under arrest.

STAGE ROYALIST
DEMONSTRATION
IN FRENCH CITY

Organization of Sympathizers Planned Modeled After Italian Fascisti

Paris, Jan. 27.—The greatest Royalist demonstration France has seen in half a century took place this afternoon in connection with the funeral of Marius Plateau, monarchist leader and editor of the Royalist newspaper L'Action Francaise, who was assassinated by a young woman anarchist. Steps are being taken to form an organization of French Royalists modeled after the Italian Fascisti.

During the morning Premier Poincare received a delegation of Socialists who claimed that the Monarchists were "threatening the safety of the republic." They charged that Royalist leaders are working hard to restore the French throne.

Premier Poincare said that the government had no fears and that every necessary precaution had been taken to prevent incidents during the afternoon. The premier said that the Royalist leaders were being watched, that their plans were known and that they were in no position to do harm.

BRITAIN IS NOT SATISFIED WITH
U. S. DEBT PLANS

English Official Says His Nation Has Best Terms to Be Offered

London, Jan. 27.—Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British debt funding mission, who arrived in Washington today to report to the cabinet, said that Great Britain has already obtained the best terms that the United States will give and that he will not return to America for any further negotiations. The chancellor expressed regret that the negotiations of the American side had fallen into the hands of politicians.

Mr. Baldwin and the other members of the mission arrived at Southampton upon the White Star Liner Olympic. The chancellor placidly puffed his pipe while he summed up his conclusions in the following terse sentences:

"There is no hope of getting America to offer better terms. The problem now is whether the British cabinet will accept the terms offered. Any change of opinion in the United States would be against England, not in our favor. Cancellation has got upon the nerves of the American people. I am not going back to the United States on war debt business."

Other members of the British party agreed with Mr. Baldwin that debt cancellation was a very unpopular subject in the United States at this time.

The chancellor of the exchequer, elaborated upon his views, saying: "The American people as a whole think they are doing an extraordinarily generous thing in offering the terms they did to the British. I am afraid however, that the British do not think so."

GERMAN CITIES HIT
BY ORDER FOLLOWING
REPORTED VIOLENCE

Railway Traffic in Ruhr Coal Fields Practically at Standstill as 175,000 Miners, Steel Workers and Trainmen Are Idle

Paris, Jan. 27.—Martial law was declared at Treves and Kreutznach by the French today following riots in which a number of persons were injured say Mayence advices to the Petit Parisien.

The trouble began when the French military authorities deported ten German officials from Treves. Mobs formed in the streets and French civilians were attacked.

French colonial troops charged the mobs and fighting followed. No one was killed.

Treves and Kreutznach are at the extreme southern end of the German territory taken over by the Allies after the armistice. It is quite distant from the Ruhr and Westphalian industrial districts seized by the French a fortnight ago. A state of siege, which is approximate to martial law has been prevailing in the newly occupied zones ever since the French went in.

The communist newspaper Humanite is agitating for the railway men's union to protest against mobilization of rail employes for duty in the occupied zone.

According to press estimates, between 4,000 and 5,000 French rail workers have already been sent into the Ruhr for duty upon German railroads. They are taking the place of German workers who went on strike in protest against the French seizures.

Twenty-five French officers of rank and 150 petty officers are on their way from Brest to the Ruhr to take command of the boats and barges in the Ruhr river and the adjacent canals that run through the German coal fields.

General Weygand, chief of staff to Marshal Foch, who has been investigating conditions in the Rhineland, has returned to Paris and reported to the cabinet today.

Dusseldorf, Jan. 27.—Except for French military trains, railway traffic in the Ruhr coal fields was practically at a standstill today. Nearly all the German railroad workers in the Ruhr are on strike. No coal was being shipped into France or Belgium, although a few trains left for German points, against the express commands of the French.

It is estimated that about 175,000 coal miners, iron and steel workers and railroad workers are idle.

There is a great scarcity of freight cars for fuel shipments.

French railway and canal workers are arriving to supplant the Germans. The French have decided against requisitioning German labor for the time being for fear of trouble. Isolated disorders were reported from the occupied districts but for the most part the people are sullenly passive.

It was reported from Mayence that proclamations, dated February 1, are being printed there, declaring the Rhineland a separate and independent republic.

SEE SHOWDOWN ON SYSTEM OF
U. S. FINANCES

Senate Action on Budget Plan Likely to Come Soon.

Washington, Jan. 27.—A showdown on the budget system of financing governmental operations—inaugurated by the present administration—is foreshadowed in connection with the final action on the army appropriation bill now pending before the Senate.

Embodying in this bill is the annual rivers and harbors appropriation, and it is upon this so called "pork barrel" item that a spirited clash between the executive and the legislative branches is expected to center.

President Harding has taken as a direct assault on the system the action of the House in increasing the rivers and harbors appropriation from $27,000,000, as recommended by the budget bureau, to $58,000,000. This $29,000,000 increase, according to the White House, "not only was unwarranted but was contrary to the spirit of the administration's economic policy."

No indication could be obtained at the White House as to whether the president would veto the army bill should it pass through the senate without material reduction in the item. It was made known in the plainest terms, however, that the president resents the enormous increase over the submitted figures.

Administration leaders are hopeful of favorable action by the Senate. Already, certain groups in the Upper House are understood to be preparing a vigorous fight for a reduction. Led by Senator King, of Utah, and including many of the powerful administration Senators, these men hope to bring the rivers and harbors figure back at least to a semblance of that submitted by the budget bureau.

FOUR ARE INJURED

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Jan. 27.—Four persons were reported seriously injured in a wreck on the Jersey Central Railroad near Rockport at an early hour this morning.

SITUATION NOW MORE TENSE OVER GERMAN SECTIONS

Washington, Jan. 27.—The situation in the occupied area of Germany was officially described here today as becoming "more tense."

Dispatches from American observers abroad, transmitted through official channels to the state department fully justify the grave tone of press dispatches, it was said.

A most pessimistic view of developments abroad was taken today by officials who are in closest touch with actual conditions in the occupied zone and with the state of feelings in both Berlin and Paris. The gloom appeared deeper than at any time since the French began their march into the Ruhr two weeks ago.

The opinion was expressed by one chief spokesman of the administration that the tension has become so great between Berlin and Paris that "neither intervention by disinterested outside nations nor direct negotiations between the French and Germans themselves, are likely at this time to offer any hope of alleviating the situation."

Officials did not take seriously today the protests being voiced in Paris that American correspondents in the Ruhr are exaggerating conditions. Official dispatches tally closely with what has been cabled American newspapers. While a gloomy view of the European situation was being taken at the state department the storm clouds of senatorial disapproval of administration policy appeared growing blacker at the capitol today.

The foreign relations committee of the senate held a short session and took up Secretary of State Hughes' complete report on the status and activities of Col. R. W. Boyden, on the allied reparations commission. The committee examined the "confidential memoranda" submitted by Secretary Hughes and the dissatisfaction of some senators plainly was unabated after the session.

"The situation has not been cleared up," said Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican of California, a leader of the irreconcilable group. The report from Secretary Hughes simply discloses that we are still employing army and navy officers where they have no business. Ours is an anomalous situation."

Others of the irreconcilable group, who believe Col. Boyden should be brought home and all American connection with the reparations commission severed, expressed similar dissatisfaction.

Senator Henry C. Lodge, chairman of the committee and the administration spokesman on foreign affairs in the senate, had no comment. When the senate opened, Senator Lodge merely moved the printing of the Hughes letters in the Record, saying they were needed for an understanding of the policy of the secretary of state on reparations.

CHARGE DRY WORKER WITH STEALING OF CAR-DENIES GUILT

Marshal Dean Nye, of Richmond, Ohio, Says Matter Is a Frame-up.

Stuebenville, O., Jan. 27.—Marshal Dean Nye, of Richmond, Ohio, one of the active dry enforcement men in Jefferson County and, who caused quite a sensation early this week by appearing before state prohibition authorities to ask assistance in the clean up of Steubenville, alleging he was being interfered with by city authorities, was placed under arrest here Thursday night on a charge of having a stolen automobile in his possession.

A Buick machine, driven by Nye during the raids here, was identified this morning by Russell L. Law, a Wheeling insurance man, as that stolen from in front of his place of business on last September 11.

Nye claims he purchased the machine from a Dennison, O., man. He will be taken to Wheeling today to face charges although he maintains he will produce the man from whom he bought it.

In a statement to newspapermen Friday, Nye declared the arrest is a frame up by the city authorities to prevent him from continuing his prohibition enforcement activities here.

The charge, however, was filed by Albert Super, an adjuster of a Cleveland automobile insurance company.

APPROVES NAVAL BASE

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Harding has approved the establishment of a naval base at Alameda in San Francisco bay an appropriation of $1,000,000 to begin construction. Secretary of Navy Denby has informed the house naval affairs committee. The announcement came as a surprise to the committee which is considering an offer by Alameda to give the government 5,340 acres of water front land for the base.

STATE POSTPONES CLINIC FOR GRIP

Columbus, Jan. 27.—With influenza prevalent all over Ohio, and with a general and increasing death list, due to pneumonia, the State Health Department has postponed its immediate program of tuberculosis diagnostic clinics. State Health Director Monger announced.

This action affects the clinic scheduled to be held at Washington C. H., January 30-31 and may affect clinics being planned for Youngstown, Marion and Clermont County, it was said.

"The State Health Department has taken the consistent attitude that, having advised the people of the state to stay at home, if they have colds, and having warned them of the dangers of neglecting this precaution, it has no right to create a congestion by calling together several score persons who may be a potential menace to the public health," declared Dr. Monger.

COOK DOES NOT WANT NIGHT OFF! KATY KETTLE PREFERS TO STAY HOME AND STUDY COOK-BOOK

TEN-HOUR DAY IS ADVOCATED FOR GIRL COLLEGE STUDENTS

New York, Jan. 22.—A ten hour day for the college girl and one day's rest in seven is recommended by the Board of Student Presidents at Barnard College in a resolution presented to the undergraduate body, which proposes a new point system to regulate extra curricular activity. By this plan a student's entire college activity would be limited "to such an amount as she may reasonably be expected to accomplish in a ten-hour day, or a sixty-hour week."

Eight hours for sleep, two hours for exercise and four hours for meals, duties at home, and so on, are essential, the board believes, leaving ten hours in the twenty-four for college activities. Under the new method the extra-curricular activities would be regulated by a point system, in which each point would stand for three hours of work, as it does in the academic system.

The board suggests that exceptions be made in the case of seniors, by special permission from the faculty committees on instruction and student affairs.

The Bulletin, Barnard's weekly newspaper, concludes an editorial on the scheme as follows:

"We would not yet pass judgment on the scheme, but rather would we launch it with the suggestion that it deserves earnest, heated and purposeful consideration at the hands of the college."

On the eve of his arraignment on the most serious charge in the criminal catalogue, Vandervoort calmly re-lined on the cot of his cell in the Clinton County Jail and read a copy of the Saturday Evening Post. In another part of the jail, Bangham, Glass and Moorman, allowed the freedom of the cell block together were permitted the intercommunication that was denied Vandervoort, who is held in solitary confinement.

Chief of Police M. E. Graham, Lieutenant Charles Mackrodt and Detective Cliff Latimer of the Pennsylvania Railroad police visited the youths in the jail Friday afternoon. Vandervoort appeared pleasant and unperturbed. There are no other prisoners held in the cell block in which he is a prisoner and for that reason his cell door is left open in the day time and he is permitted to relax in the corridor. He smiled mildly at his visitors and informed Chief Graham that he did not ever remember seeing the police officer on his frequent visits to Xenia. The youth politely thanked Sheriff Will Kirk when the latter turned on the lights to permit him to continue his reading. His visitors said he seemed self-assured and not bothered by worry.

Vandervoort is being held in a section of cells on the second floor of the jail. The three other youths are locked up at night in adjoining cells in a cell block on the first floor. There are four cells in the section and a prisoner being held for carrying concealed weapons is occupying the fourth cell. He scurried into his cell when the visitors were shown in by Sheriff Kirk. Bangham a tall, nice-looking boy, talked to the officers. He said he had not been in Xenia much and did not recognize Chief Graham or the other officers. Moorman and Glass retained their silence.

Mrs. Mary Bangham, of Port William, mother of one of the accused youths, visited her son in his cell Thursday for a short time. Two brothers of the youth are also said to have returned here and expected to visit him. Vandervoort has had no callers besides the authorities, who have frequently visited him.

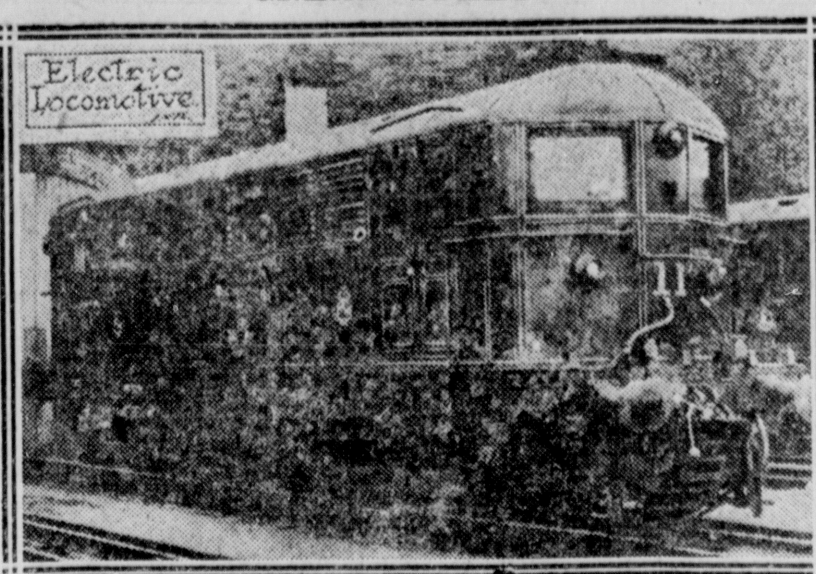

Beyond the arraignment of the prisoners Saturday morning there were no new developments in the case announced by authorities in either Greene or Clinton Counties. Authorities here have not yet had an opportunity to subject two automobiles which they believe to be the gun with which Matthews was killed to a firing test.

TORRENCE AGAIN NAMED TO POSITION WITH ASSOCIATION

FINDLEY M. TORRENCE

Findley M. Torrence, of this city, was reappointed by the Ohio Retail Lumber Dealers' Association as secretary-manager of the organization at the annual convocation, in Cleveland.

Mr. Torrence has successfully held the position of secretary and manager of the association and editor and publisher of the official magazine of the organization for the last eight years during which time the association has grown rapidly.

When the Xenia man accepted the secretaryship of the Association, its membership was small and the publication of "Wood Construction," the official organ, was costing the organization $13,000 annually. The income of the Association was $3,500 at that time and since Mr. Torrence has had charge of it, the Association income has grown to $36,000 in which the magazine, published twice a month, plays a big part.

Mr. Torrence, who has been in attendance at the annual convention in Cleveland will leave with 102 other delegates and their families, Saturday night for Chicago. The party will spend Sunday in Chicago and then proceed to Vancouver, followed by a trip to lumber camps along the Pacific coast, to learn lumber conditions. The party will be on the trip 26 days. Miss Miriam Whittington, who attended the convention as stenographer for Mr. Torrence, will return to Xenia from Cleveland Saturday night.

Dr. John Wesley Hill, Chancellor of The Lincoln Memorial University, nationally prominent speaker, will address the members of the Miami Trade Club, at the first annual dinner to be held in the Miami Hotel, Dayton, February 15. The subject of his address will be "The People and the Railroads."

Members of the Traffic Club will have as their guests at the dinner, representatives of the press, special press reservations to be arranged for at the dinner.

A number of members of the club in Xenia are expected to attend the meeting.

NO MORE AUTO LICENSES ON HAND

There are no more automobile license tags at the office of City Auditor T. H. Zoll.

This announcement to automobile owners was made Saturday after the meagre supply that had been obtained was exhausted. Because of the burning of the license plant in Columbus last fall, it has been impossible to furnish the demand on time.

Because of the lack of supply, the time for obtaining the license plates has been extended until the plant is able to completely supply the demand.

HARDING SEES AN AGREEMENT ON WAR DEBT

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Harding has every confidence that there will be an agreement with the British government for the refunding of its huge war debt to the United States, it was stated at the white house. Should the settlement be delayed beyond the present session of congress, which ends March 3, there will, however, be no extra session of the new congress to consider the matter.

The president and the American debt commissioners were declared to believe that the counter proposition presented by the Americans after the British mission had outlined terms on behalf of its government was sound and one that might have been acceptable to congress. The firmness of the Americans in supporting their counter proposition was a contributing reason, it was believed, for the decision of the British to have cabinet consideration of the whole question before proceeding further with the negotiations.

Stanley Baldwin, British chancellor of the exchequer and head of the British mission to this country, is due to arrive in London today. He is expected to report immediately to Premier Bonar Law, but the cabinet probably will not take up the question before early next week.

The expectation here is that after the cabinet has acted, the negotiations with the American commission will be resumed through Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador at Washington. The American commissioners hope for an early settlement, but some of them are rather doubtful that an agreement can be put in shape for presentation to this congress in time for final action by the two houses before the date fixed by law for adjournment.

PRESIDENT OPPOSED TO NEW CONFERENCE

Washington, Jan. 27.—President Harding does not consider the present time opportune for the United States to call a world conference on economic problems, it was stated at the white house. It was indicated that the president will again oppose the reintroduced Borah resolution asking to call an economic conference. It was emphasized that the United States would be willing to participate in such a movement as soon as the nations of Europe indicate that they are ready for it.

A resolution calling on the president to convene a world peace conference in Washington was introduced in the house by Representative Chalmers (Rep., O.).

The resolution asks for the appointment of a committee of 10, five members each from the house and senate, to urge the president to assemble the leading nations of the world here "to consider and work out a specific plan for world stabilization."

RAIL SERVICE IS ORDERED RESTORED

Columbus, Jan. 27.—The Pennsylvania railroad was ordered by the state railways commission to restore passenger train service between Cincinnati and Morrow on practically the same schedule as the company maintained between the two points before it recently discontinued service on the ground that other transportation competition had made it unprofitable. The order becomes effective Feb. 5. Opinion of the commission, as stated in the order, declares that proposed service offered as a substitute by the railroad "would be insufficient and would not afford the public reasonable and adequate service."

CHIROPRACTORS TO FIGHT

Cleveland, Jan. 27.—While nine chiropractors are "doing time" in lieu of paying fines, Albert H. Schnacke, president of the Ohio Chiropractic association, filed notice of appeal after he had been found guilty of practicing his profession without a license and was fined $25 and costs by Chief Justice John P. Dempsey in municipal court here. Forty-one others in Columbus, Cincinnati, Lima and Youngstown, facing trial on the same charges, expressed their determination to serve jail sentences rather than pay fines.

The final score was 20 to 19. The game was a good one from start to finish and was featured by sensational basket shooting and the guarding of both quintets.

The Merchants outplayed their rivals in the first half and were leading 14 to 10 at the end of the first 20 minutes of play. In the final period however the Springfield combination strengthened on offense and defense and scored nine points to six for Xenia, but the visitors just fell one point short in order to tie the score. Barr, former Springfield high school star was the big noise for the Greek Wops with four baskets from the field. Ropp played a fine game at guard. Boxwell, former Central High athlete showed that he still knows how to handle the old pill and he came through with three baskets while his work at guard was also good. Donthett, Randall and Reutinger also played brilliantly for the locals.

FIVE ARRESTED, BIG STILL AND 133 GALLONS OF LIQUOR CONFISCATED IN RAIDS SATURDAY

Three men were arrested and one of the largest stills ever captured in Greene County was confiscated when officers raided the home of tenants on the J. Q. A. Wright farm, between Xenia and Jamestown Saturday afternoon.

As a result of the liquor raid Karl McCoy, 35, entered a guilty plea in the court of Magistrate J. E. Jones to a charge of manufacturing liquor and was fined $1,000 and costs and J. C. French, 30, and Harry Martin, 31, pled not guilty and their hearing set for next Tuesday morning in the same court.

The raid and arrests were made by Sheriff Morris Sharp, Deputies John Baughn and George Spencer and Patrolman Ancil Stephens of the Xenia Police Department, who confiscated a 50-gallon copper still, a quantity of copper coils and other equipment and 26 five-gallon and three one-gallon jugs of corn liquor. After the hearings, the 133 gallons of corn whiskey were emptied into a storm sewer near the office of Squire Jones and the equipment destroyed while a crowd of 200 people looked on.

George and Roy Cline, Jamestown billiard hall operators were arrested Saturday morning by Sheriff Sharp, Deputies Baughn and Spencer and Patrolman Stephens and a quantity of liquor in bottles confiscated at their place of business. They entered guilty pleas when arraigned before Squire Jones and each was fined $700 and costs.

The liquor raids are the result of activities from the office of Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, who has sought state assistance in uncovering bootleggers and manufacturers in the county. Saturday, Prosecutor Williamson made a plea for the co-operation of citizens in informing his office of information concerning the illicit liquor traffic under the promise that the authorities would do all in their power to support the dry laws.

FORDNEY TO RETIRE TO FARM MARCH 4

Washington, Jan. 27.—Joseph W. Fordney, Republican of Michigan, chairman of the House ways and means committee after twenty-four years of continuous service in Congress is going back to the farm March 4, he said today.

At the age of 70 years, political life has lost some of its charms for the legislator who has to his credit a new tariff law and a new revenue tax law, and whose name as attached to a soldier bonus bill that passed both houses of Congress but met the veto of President Harding.

BETTER STICK TO THE THREE PER CENT EXCLUSION LAW.

Some of the organized manufacturing interests of the country have started a drive upon congress to let down the bars and bring in something like a hundred thousand immigrants in excess of the quota fixed for immigration under the existing three per cent law.

The best statistics show that unemployment has been almost eliminated during the past year, and the political manufacturing groups complain that there exists a shortage of common labor. In the old days these industrial traffickers used to go over to Europe and round up a ship-load of human beings who had strong arms and bodies and weak minds and bring them to our shores under agreements to "work it out." But the better sense of America put a stop to such methods of human slavery, with the result that the time came when the "foreign vote" did not deter congress from putting up the bars against immigrants. The greedy few in the manufacturing lines who have always sought to keep wages of workmen at the minimum cared very little about restrictive immigration laws when the country was filled with unemployed. But now the shoe is beginning to pinch again on their mercenary toes, and in consequence they are hammering at the doors of congress to let down the bars and bring in an extra hundred thousand or so of men who will work at common labor—and incidentally break down the existing wage scales.

Better stick to the three per cent exclusion law. We have about as many aliens now as we seem able to digest comfortably.

HANDS TIED AS TO EUROPE.

Difficulties confronting the Harding Administration, which prevent the executive branch of the Government from responding to the vociferous demands of Senate critics that something be done in respect to European affairs, were outlined fully by an authorized Administration spokesman.

The summary of the position in which the United States stands—in effect, an answer to Senator Borah and others who want America to "protest, act, take steps, intervene or mediate," as the case may be.

It was stressed that the fundamental question which has made all contact between the United States and Europe difficult is the money that those countries owe America. This gold barrier has intervened on many occasions and made it impossible for the United States to offer help or to suggest solutions without knowing in advance that these overtures would "get" somewhere.

The Administration has discovered that there is a decided feeling abroad that when the United States does offer help it should be help in reducing the debt. Many European statesmen hold that since America refused guarantees, is not a party to the Treaty of Versailles nor a member of the League of Nations, she can help in no other way. They have not bluntly said so, but the Government feels that if a crude or unwelcome step were made looking to American intervention the reply from abroad would be along those lines.

"BLOODY WILLIAMSON."

The Herrin verdict, expected though it was, must be accepted as a defeat of the State of Illinois by a defiant community. It is more than that, for when a community, led by its fears, hates, class-mindedness and prejudices, votes itself a blanket acquittal of a crime so ghastly as the Herrin massacre, men's sense of justice everywhere is defied and discouraged.

The blame does not rest upon the officials of the State of Illinois. They have done their best. The men of Attorney General Brundage were forced to fight their way through walls of stubborn opposition. They did well even to bring five men to trial. They presented their case with precision in an atmosphere openly hostile and deeply determined. That atmosphere has strangled and smothered the first attempt at justice. "Bloody Williamson" had decreed the murders should go unpunished; and against that determination and community conspiracy the State proved powerless.

The final touch of mordant irony is added to the verdict by Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois miners, who says: "Once again the enemies of labor have been defeated. In that you have the atmosphere of Herrin and a diagnosis of its disease."

Williamson County has chosen to remain "Bloody Williamson." Remembering the twenty graves in the Herrin "potters' field," the Nation must draw a broad black circle about the red-named name of Herrin. Its name has come to be an ugly symbol and its shame will live.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

OUR BOYS BEHAVED AT COBLENZ.

To Gen. Allen, commanding and representing the American troops in Coblenz, the German burgomaster, speaking for the people who have daily lived in the shadow of that occupation, gave this parting message on receipt of the news that the soldiers had been ordered home: "We are sorry to see you leave. We do not know what we can do without you nor what will happen to us soon. We are sorry to see the Americans go, leaving us so excited and at such a dreadful time. However, we trust matters will right themselves, and we wish all the best things to Gen. Allen and his troops." Not the little band of Americans still remaining, not the much larger number already recalled, but the entire expeditionary forces and the great country from which they were drawn may take just pride in this certificate of good behavior, this proof that American soldiers in the most difficult of undertakings have won golden opinions.

SO FAR AS WE ARE CONCERNED

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

A large force of workmen in spite of the disagreeable weather are steadily engaged on the Neft grounds at Yellow Springs. Between this time and the first of May the sum of $50,000 will be expended and from present indications when the park is thrown open to the public one of the largest and most attractive holiday resorts in this part of the state will be at the disposal of visitors.

On Friday evening the High School basketball team will play its first game with an outside team. The High School of Tippecanoe City, will be here and a great game is expected.

A collision occurred between two traction cars on the D. and X. line this morning near Trebels and as a result the "dinky" street car was put out of business for some time to come.

Everything points to an industrial boom for Xenia during the coming summer. A number of new enterprises projected and the bright prospects for all the factories and mills now in operation makes it certain that there will be no lack of labor for all, at good wages.

THE WELL ROUNDED FORM

A few years ago, I was almost literally deluged by the number of requests for something to develop the bust.

Then girls living in large cities lost interest in this—what shall I call it?—fad, for the styles were changing and the long, flat, boyish figure was coming in. Girls from the country, where fads and fashions catch on more slowly, continued to sigh for the perfect 36 figure. Now—well, no one wants to be round of form and well developed.

However, styles are changing again. Slowly, to be sure. This winter's dresses still hang loosely from broad square shoulders over a bustless figure, to be held for an interval by flat half developed hips and to end in voluminously draped skirts.

But one big fashion house is putting out a basque waist here and there (can you fancy anything more awful on a flat form?) and another is trying to graduate ruffles on the bottom of a full skirt, a third is putting a circular flounce from the knees down, or pleats inserted to make the skirt flare out bell shape from below the hip.

Sleeves have already been making themselves fancy—and there you have it, the fashions of the nineties back again after 30 years of ridicule.

Which means that the full bust figure will return. I'll give it two years to "catch on." So, if you are unfashionably full now, take heart for you'll be in style without trouble when your slim sister is taking olive oil and malted milk by the quart.

And if you want, then or at any other time, a fattening tonic that will help develop the bust send to me and I'll mail you the formula for one that has been much praised.

TWO CRUSHED BY FALLING ROCK.

New Philadelphia, O., Jan. 26.—Two men were killed and another seriously injured when a five-ton rock fell on them in the No. 2 mine of the H. J. Brown & Sons Coal Company, near here. The dead are: William J. Murphy, 29, single, and John P. Maloney, 27, survived by a wife and three children. Albert Murphy was taken to a hospital.

CHIROPRACTORS GO TO JAIL.

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—A statewide movement to accept jail sentences rather than pay fines for practicing without a license was begun in earnest by Canton and Cleveland chiropractors. While four men convicted in Canton began serving out fines of $500 and costs in the workhouse there, five Clevelanders chose to serve terms in the Warrensville workhouse.

THE GAZETTE And THE REPUBLICAN Information Box

All questions asked by our readers will be answered in this column. Medical and legal subjects are barred. Address all queries to "Information," this paper.

Inquisitive—Prof. F. B. Morse invented the telegraph in 1835. His instrument has, of course, been improved upon, but the fundamentals are much the same today as in his original model.

Q.—No, French is not an "extremely universal" language. English is the most widely spoken, German, the second, Russian, the third, and so on, and only about one-third as many people speak French and English.

Whizz—Lake Michigan is 32,550 miles square.

Pep—The organization of the Republican party came about as a result of ill feeling aroused by the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act of 1854.

Harold B. L.—The Three balls, significant of the pawnbroker's Establishment came to be used in the following manner. The first real pawn broker were Italian bankers, the greatest of which were the Medici of Florence, who had guided pills on their shields in allusion to the professional origin of the name Medici.

W. O.—You are quite right. It is a peculiar custom, but true, that the gods of New Britain are kept in virtual imprisonment in their homes from the time they are two or three years old, until they are married.

Student—The first, and one of the best, schools of technology in this country was Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, N. Y., founded in 1824.

Exact—It is estimated that four million threads of a young spider's web are not as thick as a single hair of a man's beard.

H. L. Millen—The longest bridge in the world is that built over the Great Salt Lake in Utah. It is twenty miles long and is built entirely of wood.

Peg—We have never heard of Abraham Lincoln having made the remark, "To fool with a fool is foolish." It may be recorded in one of the anecdotes about him, but bear in mind that very few of these are historically correct.

Epicure—Marzipan is a candy of German concoction. It is made chiefly from almonds.

Interested—There is an air line over the English Channel that carries a very great number of passengers from England into France, and the fare is just a trifle more than would be the total rail and boat rate for the same trip.

Tennis—The first national tennis champion was R. D. Sears, who ranked in first place from 1881 to 1886.

Waiting—There are approximately 400,000 Mormons in the United States.

HOME FOR BACHELORS.

Cleveland, Jan. 26.—A 600-room combination home and club for bachelors will be constructed here by the Allerton interests of New York. It was announced. The building will be 16 stories high and will cost around $2,000,000. The Allerton interests operate four smaller establishments in New York. A fifth is being erected there and one of 1,100 rooms is in process of construction in Chicago.

SEVENTY YANKS TAKE BRIDES.

Coblenz, Jan. 26.—Seventy American soldiers married their German sweethearts during the hour before the army of occupation pulled out of Coblenz. Many of the pretty frauleins apparently could not make up their minds until train time. All the chaplains and many civilian authorities were called in to perform the ceremonies.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the most congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

THE BUSY PASTOR.

The pastor of our little church is busy all the time; throughout the town he seems to search for evidence of crime. And when he finds a sinner bent on wicked work or play, he makes that evil one lament the folly of his way. If some tired woman gets divorce, the pastor she'll arouse, and he will preach until he's hoarse on sacred marriage vows. If we would see a Fatty screen, the angry pastor roars, and asks the law to intervene, and close the playhouse doors. The people of our little kirk are in opposing groups, and some applaud the pastor's work with loud and joyous whoops. And others would his course impeach, they criticize and rail, and say a preacher ought to preach of Jonah and the whale. I offer neither cheers or knocks, and neither side I join; and in the contribution box I place a wooden coin. The parson who would make a hit must closely watch his step, for if he sticks to Holy Writ men say he's lacking pep; and if to modern things he's next, and hunts out sins and scamps, men give him, as his proper text, the virgins and their lamps. No matter how the pastor tries to cleanse his mundane place, some worshippers will promptly rise to say he's off his base. Our pastor jogtrotts many blocks to hunt out hidden crime, and in the contribution box I drop a bogus dime.

Today's Talk

We take our hands and lift some heavy pieces and boast inwardly of our strength.

We run in the open and come to our homes in ruddy redness for renewed romp or reading.

But we don't give credit to the one mighty power which makes all enjoyment and all pleasure possible—the mind.

Solomon once said that a man carried the world around in his heart.

And yet the longest lived man could not possibly hope to discover but a small part of this world of his.

But the mind steps in to interpret and to explain—to enlarge and to make fine and real, every impression that the beauties of outward nature creates.

Your mind is your best friend. It is a storehouse of endless dimensions. Within its comparatively small area the outlines of centuries may be placed upon its walls.

And you may gather wealth for its coffers at no price at all—excepting effort.

It is only as you use your mind that your friends become angels of mercy and inspiration, or mere passing spirits of no value to you at all.

Be very good to this friend of yours—your greatest friend, your mind!

PIQUA WINS OVER XENIA HIGH FIVE BY SCORE OF 37-26

Piqua High School basketball team a just 11 points better than Xenia High at the conclusion of court festivities at the new high school Friday night, the locals being the short end of the 37 to 26 that decided the conflict.

A pair of speedy and shifty forwards who always managed to get in where near the territory of the Piqua hoop just ahead of the ball, played a large part in the offensive power of the visiting aggregation. The trouble that has beset the path of the blue and white five all season to date, that of locating the ball, proved again to be the downfall of Coach Earl Burgner's outfit, for the visiting defense was not tight enough to keep the Xenia tossers from shooting but the latter experienced considerable difficulty in making their shots good.

Time after time shots propelled by the Xenia cagers went wide of their mark, while several were pure bad-luck specimens. Piqua cut in for a little tough luck in hitting the hoop also, but they did locate the basket so regularly that the misses were insignificant. Captain Edge was the most consistent performer in the offensive work of the visitors, while Fisher's tossing of seven fouls out of eight attempts was exceptional. Purucker at center did not shine as brilliantly yet he scored well up in played well on the defense.

LeSourd was the mainspring in the offense in spite of the fact that he was not able to consistently find the bucket until late in the affair. Repeatedly his shots were wide of their mark or rolled off the edge in the first half, but his reversal of form in the second period netted him five baskets and two fouls out of four attempts for the game. Woolary played well, especially in the first half, and Smith showed decided improvement. Zell played hard and consistently at guard. Perrine gave indication that he might be used more frequently with good results.

Piqua scored first on Edge's bucket in the first two minutes of play and Zell knotted the count a moment later. Fouls by Fisher gave the visitors a slender lead that was not supplemented until late in the period. Schwab's basket was the initial counter in the second period, but it was not until too late in this half that the locals got started.

The game was the cleanest played here this season. Xenia plays Urbana High at Urbana Saturday night. The lineup and summary.

Xenia—26. Piqua—37. Woolary.....L.F.....Edge (C) LeSourd.....R.F.....Fisher Schwab.....C.....Purucker Smith.....L.G.....P. Barklow Zell.....R.G.....Gavin.

Substitutions: Xenia: Currie (C) for Smith, Perrine for Woolary, Smith for Zell, Zell for Schwab, Piqua: C. Barklow for P. Barklow, Crn for Fisher, Bauman for Purucker. Field Goals: Woolary 2, LeSourd 5, Schwab 1, Zell 2, Currie 1, Perrine 1, Edge 6, Fisher 2, Purucker 5, Bauman 2. Foul Goals: LeSourd 2 out of 4, Fisher 7 out of 8. Referee: Reese Denison.

SOCIETY WOMAN ENTERS BUSINESS

Mrs. Max Mayer

Mrs. Max Mayer, National President of the Service Star Legion and prominent Iowa clubwoman, has abandoned social activities to enter the sales department of a big department store in Des Moines. "American women have as natural an aptitude for business as they have for society and the most important development in our national life in the next five years will be the widespread activities of women in commercial pursuits," she declares.

City Manager M. P. Tucker, who has instructed the Akron boxing commission not to issue permits, for professional bouts after that date. In explanation of his action, Mr. Tucker said he considered a temporary suspension of the game good for the sport and gave the two following reasons: First, promoters are unable to satisfy the public demand for better bouts; second, there is an apparent lack of interest judging from recent attendance.

Cleveland, Jan. 27.—A fund of $10,000, set aside by the board of directors of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, was available today for the relief of members of that organization on strike in Arkansas, and declared by the organization to be lacking proper shelter or food, because driven from their homes by a mob. An additional appropriation of $500 for the benefit of the widow and children of E. C. Gregor, chairman of the machinists organization, hanged by a mob on the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad was also voted.

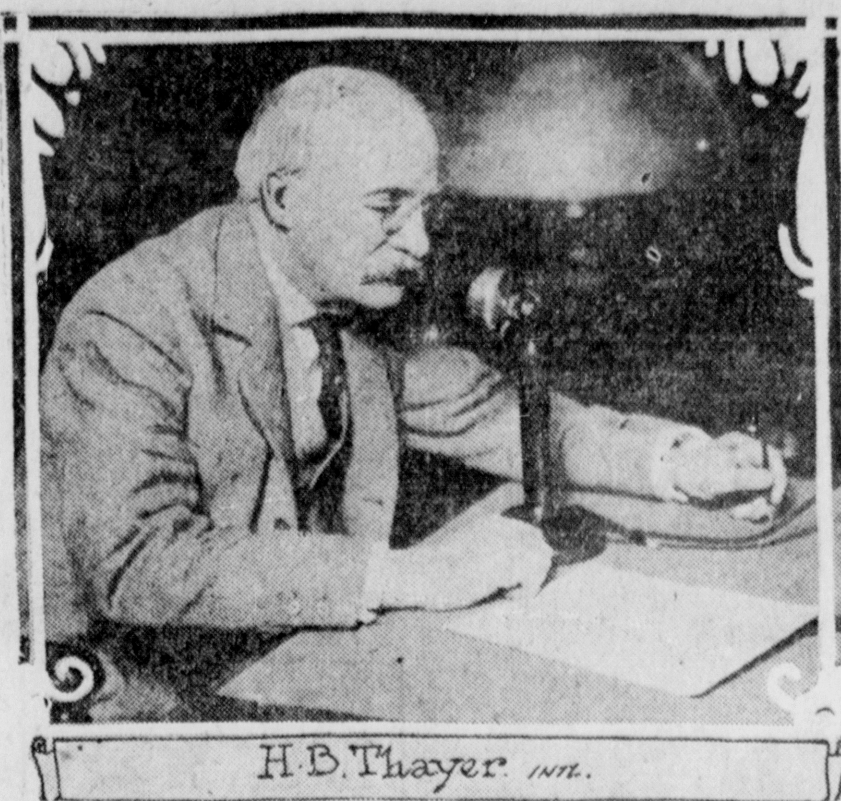

In announcing the voting of funds, President D. B. Robertson said the brotherhood would demand that the most sweeping investigation into recent disorders in Arkansas and "will co-operate in bringing to justice all parties guilty of violation of any state or federal laws, regardless of who they may be."

Trouble in Arkansas followed the hanging of Gregor by a mob and the deportation of strikers by a so-called "citizens' committee."

KLAN ORDERED TO STAY AWAY FROM BROOKLYN

New York, Jan. 27.—District Attorney Dodd of Kings county issued a warning to members of the Ku Klux Klan that they must give up their allegiance to the "invisible empire" or get out of Brooklyn.

The warning was voiced at the arraignment of eight alleged members of the "Inner Circle" of the Klan, who were arrested by members of the police bomb squad after they had attended what their counsel admitted to have been a Klan meeting. They were held in $1,500 bail for further examination, seven on charges of possessing black jacks and one on a charge of having a bottle of whisky in the automobile in which all were arrested.

The first persons rounded up by the police since Mayor Hylan's order to drive the Klan from the city gave these names in court: Alfred C. Clarke, John F. Collins, a chauffeur; Ellsworth B. Morse, an assistant manager; William D. M. Simons, advertising manager of a large typewriter manufacturing concern; John M. Gilmore, a photographer; Thomas Jones, a salesman; Charles T. Mulford, a bank clerk; and Robert Fischer, 19, claiming to be a student at Pratt institute.

Counsel for some of the defendants demanded an immediate hearing, but Magistrate Dale refused until he was told of the presence of the blackjacks in the car after the men had departed from the meeting, which it was learned, was held in a building owned by a Masonic organization and occupied in the daytime by the Brooklyn traffic court. William Haddon, superintendent of the building, said the owners had leased the hall to a group known as the Brooklyn Circle club and that he never thought the organization was part of the Klan.

FAMOUS AUTOS TO PLAY DAYTON FIVE-OTHER SPORT CHAT

The Dabco basketball team, leader of the Industrial League in Dayton, will furnish the opposition for George Haller's Famous Autos in next week's encounter.

The game to be played Tuesday evening following a Municipal League preliminary will be stage at the Central High gym, and will give fans an opportunity to determine superiority between the two Dayton Leagues that are taking the attention of cage fans in that city.

The Dabcos represent the Dayton Air Franch Company in the Industrial League and are out in front of the pack, maintaining their leadership Thursday night by defeating the Delcos 24 to 22. The Dabcos generally lineup with Tim Cramer, Haas, or Willowite at the forwards, Wassenich at center and Eichner, Scott or Player at the guards.

The Famous Autos have now disposed of most of the so-called crack teams of this section and are constantly reaching out for new worlds to conquer.

In taking on the Dabcos they are picking the cream of the Industrial League talent which may mean that the undefeated Auto aggregation will have to draw teams from a greater area in order to get real opposition in the future.

Women will be admitted free to the Friday game.

An entire re-organization of the John Roan Post, No. 517, American Legion basketball team, was made known Friday with the announcement that Coach Dean Mohr of Wilberforce University has taken over the management of the club from Ollis Thomas and Orville Watkins and will handle the destinies of the five in the future.

Simultaneous with this announcement comes the statement of Coach Mohr that he has engaged Sol Butler, star of the New York Defenders and formerly of the Chicago Defenders, and one of the best-known colored athletes in the country, to play with the Legion five during the rest of the season. Games booked for the remainder of the season will run the schedule into March and include some of the fastest white and colored teams in the country.

Although the complete lineup of the rejuvenated Legion five has not been announced, it is assured that Joe Anderson, Xenia's sensational forward and Thornton Winters, formerly of the Chicago Defenders and a former basketball star at Englewood High School, Chicago will be found at the forwards.

George Duff, formerly of the Chicago Defenders will be used at Center while Butler, the Olympic star will be used at one of the guards. Anderson has been with the Legion two years, while Duff and Winters have been playing with the team for the last few games. Butler came here with the New York Defenders and was signed by the local management.

Coach Mohr, new manager of the team, is now making arrangements for games with the Peerless Athletic Club, formerly the Y. M. C. A. team of Cincinnati; Lorendi, of Pittsburgh; Evanston "Y" of Evanston, Ill.; Indianapolis "Y"; the Ledger Big Five of Indianapolis; Famous Autos of this city; DeSoto Council, Knights of Columbus, of Chicago; South Bend Y. M. C. A.; Mary Gardens of Chicago; Holstein Merzions of Chicago; Rosenblume Club of Cleveland, and other high class attractions.

Monday night the Legion will play the New York Defenders a return game at the Rink. In a previous game the Legion team came out on top and the Defenders have been anxious for a return battle. Lawrence Rachford, will continue to referee all contests under the new management.

KEPT LONG VIGIL BESIDE VICRIM'S BODY

Mrs. Alice H. Middleton and Maltby's Home.

Months ago Mrs. Alice Middleton deserted her husband and went to live in the apartment of James Maltby, a London (England) tailor, in Park Road, Regents Park. For six months no trace was seen of her. Maltby, meantime barricaded himself in his home and boarded up the building. The police were notified and for weeks kept ceaseless watch. No water, gas nor food was supplied. Finally health authorities ordered the "besiegers" to break into the house. As they entered Maltby killed himself. It was discovered he had murdered the woman and kept her body for months in a bathtub, over which he had prepared his meals on a tiny stove.

Health, Delinquency And Child Training Discussed At Joint W.C.T.U. Meet

Over 60 women, members of the A. C. Turrell and Xenia Unions of the W. C. T. U., attended the joint all-day meeting of the organizations at the home of Mrs. D. S. Ervin, 248 North King Street, Friday. Opening at ten o'clock in the morning, with devotions in charge of Mrs. C. L. Spencer, the entire day was devoted to a program of interesting talks and discussions. Mrs. John Ary, of the Xenia union, presided over the morning program, with Mrs. Walter Dean presiding in the afternoon.

The present epidemic of grip and influenza, was the subject of the talk given by Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, during the morning session, emphasizing the importance of precaution, proper food and warmth.

Mrs. Alta Lewis, president of the Clinton County W. C. T. U. Union, was another interesting speaker of the meeting, telling of the Red Cross work throughout the county, and the methods followed in completing an efficient organization.

The work of the W. C. T. U. Unions, over the county, in the jails and institutions, was explained by Mrs. Robert Terrell, evangelistic superintendent of the county. Mrs. Terrell told how each union of the Greene County W. C. T. U., is preparing a "hope chest" for the inmates of jails and institutions, containing articles of comfort. Mrs. A. W. Jamieson, was in charge of the noontide prayer which preceded a covered dish dinner.

The workings of the Juvenile Court, the growth of that branch of the law, and the co-operation of other allied bodies, were explained by Judge J. Carl Marshall, as a feature of the afternoon meeting. According to Judge Marshall, the Juvenile Court was conceived in the minds of three women in Chicago 25 years ago, as a rebellion against the old system of treating the delinquent child as an adult. The agitation against the old method led to the proper training of the child mind by good people, co-operation of parents and authorities, according to the speaker. The name "Juvenile Court," is a misnomer for the court, said Judge Marshall, since the work of the court is similar to that of a welfare league.

The speaker urged co-operation of organizations and individuals in correcting the delinquent, pointing out the cost of the child to the state and county, which averages three million yearly to feed the people in institutions of the state.

"To secure the future of our own children we must secure the future of all children," declared the speaker, "Without the support of laws nothing can be secure," he said.

Judge Marshall urged proper Americanization of foreigners who come to the shores of the United States, and the keeping out of all undesirables.

Mrs. Raymond Wolf, who was in charge of the musical program of the day, gave one selection. Mrs. Lewis of Wilmington also gave a short talk in the afternoon, concerning the educational work of the W. C. T. U. in Clinton County.

The problem of delinquency was also handled by Miss Lulu Sollers, of the Dayton police department. According to Miss Sollers, the ages for delinquent girls has risen during the past few years, from 16 and 18 years to from 13 to 15, on the average. The co-operation of the W. C. T. U. and other organizations with the authorities was also urged by Miss Sollers.

Mrs. J. H. Benbow gave an interesting paper during the afternoon, on the obligation of the Parent-Teacher Association, and the work being furthered by that organization in the city public schools to combat malnutrition. The closing features of the program, included a talk by Miss Anna McCracken, who spoke of the advance of welfare and social work, and Miss Mary Ervin, concerning the Child Welfare work of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Patterson, of Evanston, Ill., a guest at the meeting gave an interesting short talk, telling of temperance work in Evanston, where the only public temperance hall in the United States is erected.

At the session Friday, members of both W. C. T. U. organizations adopted the curfew law, as presented by the Juvenile Court, and urged by school organizations.

WILBERFORCE

Miss Alice Stith, who has been in the hospital, is able to be out again and resume her studies.

Miss Rowena Green spent the weekend with her parents in Loveland. The young ladies who resided in Mitchell Hall and are members of the basketball team, were hostesses to the members of the team from Cincinnati, last Saturday.

Mrs. Lenora Lane and Miss Coleman, who were ill with grippe, are now able to resume their teaching duties.

Mrs. F. A. McGinnis has returned from Detroit, Mich., where she was called by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Allen.

Mrs. Luella Graham, secretary to President Gregg, was taken to the hospital, in Xenia, Monday. She was threatened with pneumonia, but is reported better.

Mr. W. A. Anderson, Jr., the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson, one of the popular young men of the community, surprised his friends by quietly motoring to Wilmington a few days ago and being united in marriage with Miss Ruby Stewart.

Supt. W. M. Berry and Pres. J. A. Gregg, motored to Greenfield, Ohio, Thursday evening, to attend a meeting called by Rev. Charles Gee of that place to start classes in extension work.

Dr. J. A. Gregg, President of the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools, returned from Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, last week, where he attended the executive meeting of the Association to make the program for the next meeting, which will be held in Tuskegee Institute, July 25th, 26th and 27th. A number of the teachers of the University anticipate attending the sessions.

The executive board of the University held a meeting Tuesday in the office of Secretary Carl Jenkins. The principal business was to look after the completion of the New Shorter Hall. Those in attendance were Bishop J. H. Jones; President John A. Gregg and Mr. Carl Jenkins of Wilberforce; Rev. W. H. Butler of Springfield; Rev. W. H. H. Butler of Springfield; Rev. T. D. Scott, of Little Rock, Ark.; and Rev. R. E. Wilson of Chicago.

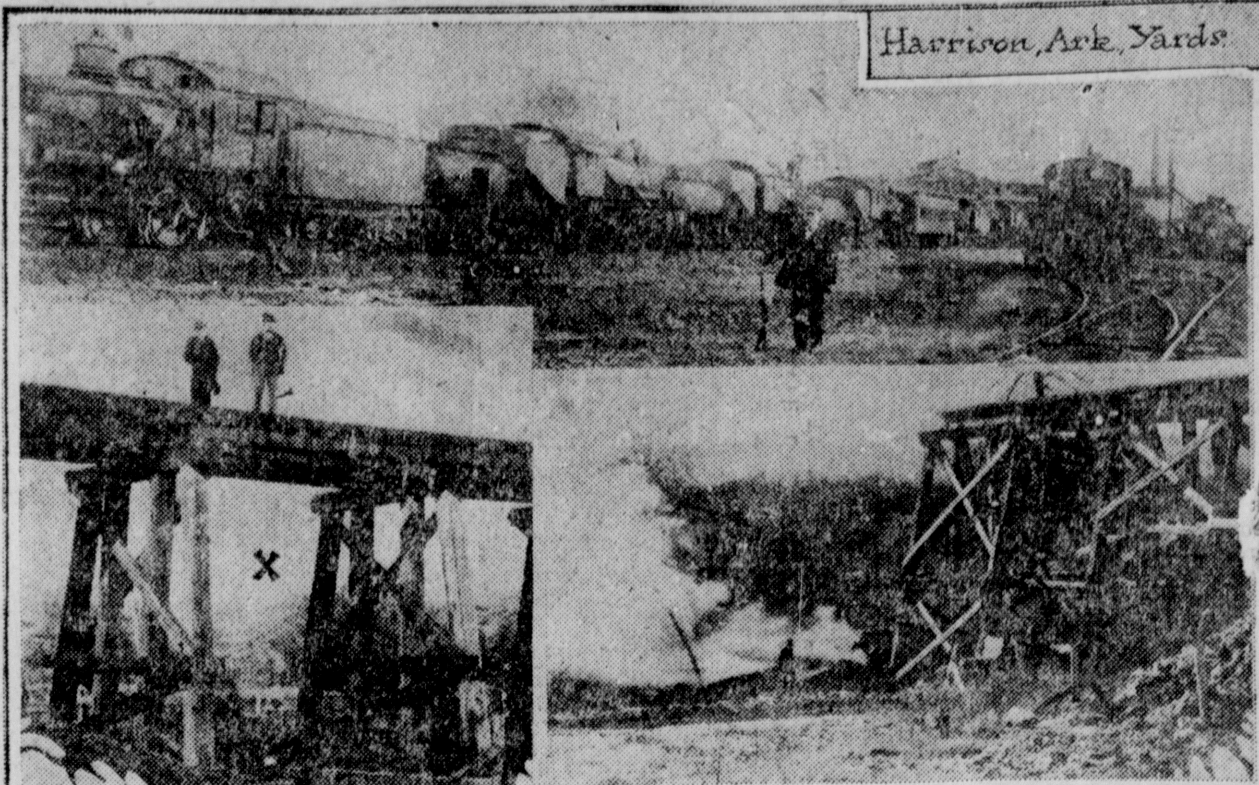

The citizens of the community and the students of the University are experiencing a malady similar to influenza or la grippe. The teachers report a daily decrease of attendance in their classes. The regular Wednesday evening paper meeting has been discontinued for the time being. Dr. Harry Lackey, the physician of the school, and Mrs. Yarber, the nurse at Tawawa Hospital, report that the wards are filled and the staff is unable to care for any more patients in the hospital just now.

Bishop J. H. Jones and Dean Geo. F. Woodson returned from Philadelphia, the last of the week. They attended the funeral of Bishop Benjamin Tucker Tanner, who died on the 14th inst. Bishop Tanner was the oldest bishop on the bench, but has retired from active service. He was the father of the noted artist, Henry Ossawa Tanner, who resides in Paris, France. Many of his paintings occupy prominent places in the Art Galleries of Europe.

Mrs. Geo. F. Woodson of the public schools, gave a very interesting talk to the students for the Commercial Club last week. She talked on "The Experience of a Woman on a Jury." Mrs. Woodson was one of the party of women who recently served on the jury in the trial of ex-Sheriff Funderburgh. She refrained from disclosing any of the secrets of the jury in the trial of ex-Sheriff over the case in the room, trying to reach a verdict. She laid stress on the solemnity of an oath, the importance of hearing the evidence, remembering the points of interest and matters of fact, and the responsibility of not only rendering a fair and impartial verdict but also, service to the people in general. As a whole it was a very instructive talk to the students of that department.

Mr. Sully James, President, Mr. Ormond Forte, of Cleveland, and Rev. F. P. McWilliams, members of the C. N. and I. Board, were at the school, Saturday when the Finance Committee of the House of Representatives made their visit to learn the needs of the C. N. and I. Department. KAISER'S MARRIAGE REPORTED UNHAPPY

London, Jan. 26.—After slightly more than two months of married life, the nuptial happiness of the former kaiser and his bride, the former Princess Hermine of Reuss, has broken down, according to a Doorn dispatch printed in the Yorkshire Evening News today.

Doorn, Jan. 27.—The report printed by a British newspaper that an estrangement has developed between the former German kaiser and his bride of two and one half months was discredited today by friends of the couple.

Wilhelm and his wife, the former Princess Hermine, of Reuss, walked together in the garden of the house of Doorn, chatting together. They were together, talking in cordial fashion, when they welcome the former German crown prince and Prince Henry of Prussia, who came here for the kaiser's birthday celebration.

Wilhelm was 64 years old today.

Wilhelm and Hermine are said to be occupying different parts of the house of Doorn—the ex-kaiser's resi-dence.

The former war lord is reported to be most dejected.

Wilhelm and Hermine were married Nov. 5, less than two years ago, the former emperor's first wife (Kaiserin Augusta Victoria) died at Doorn.

Following the marriage the couple settled down at Doorn and to all outward appearances both were enjoy-ing in life of full wedded bliss. Wil-helm in letters to friends in Ger-many, said that he was perfectly happy. In one letter he said he had obtained a wife "who suited him perfectly."

RESCUED FROM CAKE OF ICE.

Toledo, Jan. 27.—Supporting himself on floating ice cakes for more than an hour, Charles Wickes, 15, was rescued by police from the Maumee river. Al-though rescuers were on hand almost as soon as the youth was seen to slip from the New York Central railroad bridge into the river, members of the rescue party and police were unable to reach the boy for more than an hour.

TEXAS SENATOR MAY BE UNSEATED

Senator Sheppard and Senator Mayfield.

United States Senator, Earle B. Mayfield, of Texas, shown here with Senator Morris Sheppard of the same state, is to take office on March 4, but his early arrival in Washington has revived talk that efforts will be made to unseat him as soon as he is sworn in. According to Capitol gossip, the case will outrank the Newberry case, since Mayfield's election was based largely on the belief that he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, the backing of which organization he is supposed to have had.

Resignation of Matt S. Smith as superintendent of the Greene County Infirmary and the appointment of D. E. Crow, former Work House Super-intendent to the position, was an-nounced Saturday by members of the Board of County Commissioners.

Mr. Smith's resignation was handed in several days ago but not acted upon by the board, until it was found impossible to persuade him to change his intentions and remain as head of the institution Saturday morning the commissioners elected Mr. Crow to take the place. The change will be made March 1.

Superintendent Smith is now be-ginning his twelfth year as head of the infirmary, as represented in two different terms he has held the of-fice. The first period was for three years, and after three years he was again elected to the position by the board of commissioners nine years ago. During that time Mrs. Smith acted as matron until her death August 9, 1921, when their daughter, Mrs. Horace Anderson, accepted the position of matron, which she has since held.

In handing in his resignation Mr. Smith said he wished to retire from public life and asked to be relieved of the responsibilities of the position as head of the county institution. His resignation was received with regret by members of the board of commissioners who paid a high trib-ute to his record as superintendent of the infirmary by calling on him at the institution and urging him to reconsider. His service as the su-perintendent of the institution, has been such that the board regre's very much his action in retiring, members said Saturday, Mr. Smith will make his home after his resigna-tion takes effect March 1, with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Anderson, who are tak-ing a farm south of Alpha.

Superintendent-elect D. E. Crow, was in the public eye as superin-tendent of the Xenia Work House, a joint city and county owned penal institution, which position he held for 16 1/2 years. During that time he became widely known as the head of one of the best regulated institu-tions of its kind in this section. He was in continuous service as super-intendent of the institution until July 1, 1918 and in September of the same year he was appointed ticket agent at the office of the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia Southern Rail-way there, which position he has since held. When he assumes his duties as head of the infirmary the first of March, Mrs. Crow, who acted as matron of the Work House during her husband's regime as super-intendent of that institution, will be-come matron of the infirmary.

PREDICTS FAILURE OF NEAR EAST MEET

Lausanne, Jan. 27.—Riza Nur, a radical member of the Turkish delegation, declared that failure of the near east conference is certain. In other responsible quarters, however, hope of a satisfactory outcome was expressed.

Asked if war would follow the breakdown of the conference, Riza Nur said: "God only knows. I am furious that our mouths of hard work here should be for nothing."

The time apparently is not yet ripe for active American mediation, but the Americans stand ready to help in securing a permanent peace for the near east. The Mosul controversy remains the thorniest before the conference. The Turks may be asked to accept on this point the decision of a special arbitration commission, of which an American jurist would be the neutral member.

The Russian delegation issued a statement to the effect that Russia would not sign the straits treaty.

The Bulgarians threw a bomb into Balkan circles, and incidentally into the allied ranks, by officially informing all the powers that Bulgaria flatly refuses to accept the outlet to the Aegean sea as arranged by the allies.

LABOR TO SUPPORT BILL FOR PUBLIC CONTROL OF MINES

Washington, Jan. 27.—Organized labor will support the bill for complete government control and operation of all coal mines, bituminous and anthracite, during a national emergency, which has been introduced in the senate by Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, are understood to approve it and favor its enactment at the present session of congress.

Brookhart admitted that his measure was designed to give the president power to take over the mines in event that another general strike of coal miners results from failure of the operators and miners to agree on wages. The president is empowered to carry out agreements and contracts between operators and other persons or corporations for the purchase and delivery of coal so far as they do not conflict with the public interest.

Columbus, Jan. 27.—Dent O. Thompson, clothing merchant of Coshocton, was appointed by State Welfare Director Harper as superintendent of pardons and paroles, succeeding the late General W. V. McMakin. He will assume his duties Monday. Mr. Thompson accepted the appointment with the understanding that later his job may be abolished and a two-man board of pardons named, as suggested by Governor Donahay in his second message to the general assembly.

Appointment of Milton S. Cox as chief of the division of markets and marketing in the state department of agriculture was also announced. Mr. Cox is a Vinton county farmer and has for years been editor of the Democrat-Enquirer of McArthur. He operates a large stock and fruit farm in Vinton county and was formerly superintendent of schools at McArthur. He succeeds George U. Marvin.

drained strawberries, and beat till light. If it curdles, add more sugar. Hard Sauce: Stir together 1 cup of butter and 2 cups of powdered sugar. When light, beat in the juice of 1 lemon or 1-2 teaspoon of vanilla. Serve very cold on a hot pudding.

Foaming Sauce: Beat together in the top of a double boiler the yolks of 2 eggs and two-thirds of a cup of granulated sugar; let cook over boiling water for 30 minutes. Then add the whites of 2 eggs beaten stiff, take from range, flavor with 1-2 teaspoon of vanilla (or 1-4 teaspoon of lemon extract) and serve at once.

Brown Sauce: Boil together for 10 minutes 1-2 pint of sweet milk, 1 tablespoon of butter, 2 tablespoons of granulated sugar and 2 tablespoons of molasses. Serve hot.

White Sauce: Scald 3-4 cup of sweet milk and add to it 1 tablespoon of flour mixed to a paste with 1-4 cup of cold milk; let this mixture cook a few minutes—until it begins to thicken—then place the sauce pan on the back of the stove, to cool. When cool add vanilla and the whites of 2 eggs which have been beaten to a stiff froth with 1-2 cup of powered sugar. Beat all well and serve.

Hot Chocolate Sauce: (For Ice Cream Puddings.) Heat together 1 cup of sugar and 1-2 cup of water, and when boiling add 6 tablespoons of grated chocolate and 1-2 cup of sweet milk. Let all boil together for 3 minutes, then remove from fire and flavor with 1-2 teaspoon of vanilla. This will serve 6 people.

DRY OFFICERS SUSPENDED.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Several federal prohibition enforcement officers in Texas have been suspended by headquarters here pending an investigation, and it was indicated that further separations from the service in that state might be expected later. CHAPTER 89

That Walter had sent Vashti Vernon flowers meant little. Then he was angry because I had found it out, that he had tried to deceive me by saying he had brought some for the studio, meant a good deal.

When poor Helen Ralstrom had been concerned he had been singularly truthful and frank, even if angry, as it was his nature to be.

His attempted deceit almost frightened me and made me very unhappy. I wished over and over that I had paid the bill and said nothing. But as I have said before, it is hard for a wife to be always tactful.

"Miss Vernon has asked me to drop in at the opera tonight," Walter said a few days afterward. He had been sulky ever since the talk regarding the florist's bill.

"She has an extra seat in the box loaned her by some friend."

"That will be enjoyable," his mother said. "What is the opera?"

"Boheme."

"It is one of my favorites," his mother went on, saving me the need of speaking.

What were young girls thinking of, I wondered, to invite married men without their wives?

I never would have thought of doing such a thing! Of course people did things in New York they didn't do in a little Massachusetts town. I should have been ostracized for such an action there.

Walter seemed not to notice my silence and whistled and hummed all the time he was dressing. He was pleased that he was to spend the evening with Vashti I had often heard him say. Opera bored him that he could scarcely sit through it.

"Too bad she didn't have two seats,"

he said to me. "But don't look so disappointed."

I was glad he took my seriousness as disappointment, so replied:

"You know how I love opera."

"Oh, well, you have plenty of time to go. The winter is young."

I said no more, but when he went out throwing me a gay "good night. Don't sit up." I went to my room and had a good cry.

He had left very early, probably would stop and get flowers for Vashti perhaps go to the hotel for her. I pictured them together, Vashti in one of those wonderful evening gowns she affected; gowns no one but she could wear effectively, and in which she was ravishing. I saw the appeal her beauty, so enhanced, would have for Walter and it seemed almost more than I could bear.

Mrs. Page called to me:

"What are you doing Doreen?"

"Nothing particular, why?" I hurriedly bathed my eyes.

"There's a picture around the corner I should like to see. Mary and Jennie are both in. Get on your things and we'll go and see it."

How I hated the idea! I in a cheap Motion Picture House with his mother while Walter was in a box at the opera with Vashti Vernon. I, in my plain clothes; she in evening dress. But I knew if I refused Mrs. Page would be both cross and inquisitive. So with a sigh I put on my things and joined her.

Unfortunately the picture, what I saw of it, was not calculated to add to my happiness.

A neglected wife striving to hold a husband who was in love with another woman. Her pitiful attempts to make herself beautiful, to please him. Her failure at every turn. Even though she did at the last succeed—pictures must end happily, if un-truthfully—he had given all that was best in him to the other woman. It was only after the other woman had thrown him off; shown herself utterly unworthy, that he thought of the faithful, patient wife.

To make it worse for me the man in the picture was a good deal like Walter, gay, inconsequential, lovable. Mrs. Page was delighted with the picture.

"The right always wins in the end," she said as we walked home in the clear starlit night.

"But is it worth winning, then?" I asked, scarcely knowing what I said.

"Of course it is! That poor tried woman had her reward for all she suffered in knowing he turned to her in the end."

I wondered!

All Packed Up and Ready for Trip Home From Germany

WHEN France started to invade the Ruhr, the United States recalled the small force of troops she has had on German soil since the war ended. The men frankly hated to go. A number have taken German wives. Their pay, translated into German money, has been affluence. They're shown here packed and ready for their departure.

On the eve of what was to have been her wedding day, she vanished. At first it was thought she was kidnaped, victim of "tong" violence. Later it developed that Miss Wen, displeased because, Chinese style, she had not been consulted as to whom she was to marry, had gone of her own accord. She says she's a true American girl and will select her own husband.

FREE SEEDS

A historic American institution passes out. No more free seeds will be mailed by the government to the voters back home. The appropriation for free seeds, Congress has decided its decision that seeds fail as vote. The decision was hastened by Alice's recent defeat in the Congressional elections. The government mailed enough free seeds to Oklahoma to fill the state.

Seeds have, for years, been a bone of political contention. It may be true, as one side argues, that distributing free seeds merely makes all taxpayers help pay for a congressman's re-election. It may or may not be true that the seeds sprout into some votes.

But somehow we cannot help thinking that, regardless of the purposes for which they were mailed, these free seeds have done about as much ultimate good as any other way of spending Uncle Sam's money. For there are very few people who can resist planting a package of seeds. And a lot of good garden truck and beautiful flowers have sprouted from Sam's free seeds and helped make this a more beautiful and enjoyable world.

The Senate, by killing the appropriation for free seeds, saves the country $360,000 in the next fiscal year. Too bad, the saving wasn't made by eliminating some of the printed speeches and other political buncombe sent postage-free through the mails by congressmen. A lot of this printed matter is worth the free postage. But average it up and it's a slim crop compared with what comes from free seeds.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I will soon be sixteen years old. Am I old enough to correspond with boys? I have a boy friend and I like him very much and I know he thinks a lot of me. My folks do not like him and they don't want me to like him, but I can't forget him.

Is it wrong for us to correspond in secret by his sister sending letters back and forth in her letters? Is it wrong to go horseback riding with this boy and his sister?

Should I allow him to call me pet names such as "Cutie" and "Sweetie"? I never have had a boy friend I liked any better than him—I really love him.

WANDERING JEW.

You ought to know without writing to me what answer I would give to your question. A secret correspondence with the boy would be wrong and it would also be wrong to go horseback riding with him against the wishes of your parents.

It is all right for a girl of sixteen to correspond with boys if she lets her mother pass judgment on the letters she writes and receives. It is so easy to put into writing things which would be better unsaid. Any girl who lets her mother advise her in this matter is thankful in later years.

"Cutie" and "Sweetie" are such insipid and cheap pet names I should think you would resent them. Besides you are too young to let a boy call you pet names.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl and have been keeping steady company with a young gentleman for some time. I think a great deal of him. He is a very decent, upright young man, but has a peculiar fault. My parents insist that he leave the house at a certain time, but he seems offended every time I tell him so and pays no attention to it whatsoever. He thinks I am in an awful hurry to get rid of him. I can't make him see it differently.

How can I make him leave without hurting his feelings?

A READER.

The next time you have to tell the young man to go home say that it is not easy for you to tell him he must go, but that you must obey the order of your father. Tell him that he will make it easier for you if he takes what you say in the spirit it is said and does not feel resentful.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of nineteen and am in love with a boy twenty-one. He has been married, but divorced. He tells me he loves me, but does things I do not like. I have never gone anywhere with him, but have met him places.

Does he really love me and does he do these things to make me mad? Is it right for me to love him?

SUNSHINE.

The young man does not love you. If he did he would meet you at your home and take you places. His intentions are not honorable, judging from what you have said.

Never go places to meet a man. If he is unwilling to go to your home and meet your parents, you may be sure something is wrong with his character.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My husband doesn't know how to read or write. I would like to teach him. Will you please tell me how to go about it? What shall I begin with? He is not very old yet. Will I have to buy books to begin with?

THANK YOU.

Inquire of the principal of a grade school. There you will receive advice about methods and books to buy. I presume you will need one or two books. They will be inexpensive, however.

"And when he wants to lead me I know I'd dance a mile
"But he's coming rawther early for a girlie who sleeps late
"So if you're waking call me, ma, so' I won't miss this date.

"When you see him you'll know why ma, that I've gone off my nut.

LET'S step inside the money booth, at a moving picture show, and join the girl who sells the tickets there. Let's get an inkling of the truth of what this girl must know of men who see the afternoon affair.

Where do these fellows come from and, just why are they free to spend their time and money at a show, when other men are working, say, for instance, you and me? That's just the point that I would like to know.

We eye a dapper fellow who is buying just one seat. He pulls a roll of money from his jeans. Perhaps his dad is wealthy and is paying for the treat while son admires the moving picture queens.

Another man approaches and he looks from left to right. When in his seat he is the man who squirms. Perhaps he's one of many who dislike to go at night and, afterwards, steal worktime from their firms.

And still another fellow, rather old but, yet quite spry, will purchase tickets for himself and wife. The world can know he's loafing and the world can pass on by, for he's retired and now's enjoying life.

And so we watch the men folks who are long on matinees. It may, or not be truth that we've unfurled. But, just the same, a lot of folks are filled with funny ways. It takes these kind of folks to make a world.

"MAKE GREENE COUNTY GREEN" SLOGAN FOR ALFALFA CAMPAIGN WHICH WILL BE STARTED IN RURAL COMMUNITIES FEBRUARY 5 TO 10

The slogan "Make Greene County Green" will be carried out with acres upon acres of waving alfalfa, over the fields of Greene County, next summer, according to plans of the Greene County Farm Bureau in one of the most carefully planned campaigns, in rural communities, to be staged February 5 to 10.

The secret of the mysterious slogan, which has been flaunted before Greene County residents in the past several weeks, was divulged this week by County Agent Ford S. Prince, who recognized the few words as valuable and applicable in attracting the attention of everyone in the coming campaign.

Within the dates announced by Mr. Prince, an extensive program will be carried on by the county Farm Bureau through out the county, in an effort to urge the growing of alfalfa and its value as a feeding product.

Outside speakers have been secured to come to Greene County during that week, and they will be present at meetings to be staged over the county. Free movies will be shown at each meeting, dealing with the value of alfalfa. The schedule of the meetings, and the topics to be handled by the speakers will be announced by County Agent Prince next week.

NAMED ASSISTANT SHIPPING MANAGER

Frank Wardlow, prominent member of the Greene County Farm Bureau, and allied with several farmer projects, has been appointed assistant manager of the Greene County Shippers' Company, it was announced this week.

Mr. Wardlow is from Sugarcreek Township, and operates a farm in Warren County. For the past three years he has been president of the Sugarcreek Township Farm Bureau, is master of the Bellbrook Grange, and has been Greene County's trustee, in the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association. He is an active booster of co-operative marketing and will advance this project in his new position.

He will enter his work February 1.

FARMERS' WEEKS TAKES PRECEDENCE OVER FARM MEETINGS IN COUNTY

The Ohio Farmers' Week at the Ohio State University has caused a shut-down on Farm Bureau meeting in Greene County, full sway given the rural residents to attend the state session, to be held the week of January 29.

Of particular importance among the features of the Columbus meeting, will be the meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Tuesday and Wednesday, at which time the annual election of officers will be held, and reports of officers heard.

Greene County is entitled to three voting delegates at the meeting, those appointed including President of the County Farm Bureau, W. B. Bryson; W. M. Hardman, Miami township; George W. Glass, Ross township; B. U. Bell Xenia township; with the following alternates: John Munger Beaver Creek township; E. E. Finney, Cedarville township, and Lampton Smith, Sugarcreek township.

BREED ASSOCIATIONS ANNOUNCE PROGRAMS

Most recent of 17 Ohio agricultural organizations to announce programs for annual meeting to be held during Farmers' Week, Jan. 29-Feb. 2, at the Ohio State University, Columbus, are the State associations of Ayrshire and of Guernsey breeders.

CROPS COMMITTEE OF FARM BUREAU TO FORM AN ORGANIZATION IN THIS CITY WHERE LOCAL FARMERS MAY BRING GRAIN FOR ANALYSIS

The establishment of a central seed corn testing station in Xenia, was decided on at the meeting of the Greene County Farm Bureau, held last Saturday, at the County Farm Bureau office.

The plan, as laid at the meeting, is to build two testers with a capacity of 25 bushels each. The testing work will be begun February 15, and will continue until corn planting time. The testers are to be built by Fred R. Keeler, of the Smith-Hughes department at Beaver Creek High School, assisted by boys of that school. Following their completion they will be brought to Xenia where they will be placed in a room secured for the work.

A charge of one cent an ear will be charged all men entering corn to be tested at the station, for the purpose of defraying expenses of renting the room, and furnishing heat and light, and the employment necessary. It is planned to test over 50,000 ears or over 500 bushels of seed corn. The station will effect 10 townships in the county, as Beaver Creek has its own station, and Bath township is establishing its own at the co-operative elevator at Osborn. Altogether, the three stations will test in the neighborhood of 100,000 ears of corn. Accurate yields secured from several demonstration fields, during the 1922 season, lead to the estimate that at least a 500 bushel increase will be secured for having seed corn tested. A charge of a cent an ear means a cost of 15 cents an acre for testing, from which a 500 bushel corn yield increase will be secured.

Persons desiring to have seed corn tested at the Xenia station should get in touch with their township crop committeemen, the following committees being stationed in each township: Elmer Hetsel, Xenia; C. N. Fudge, New Jasper; Howard Faulkner, Caesars Creek; Leslie Smith, Spring Valley; Henry B. Weller, Sugarcreek; M. K. Ritenour, Ross; Meryl Stor, Cedarville; L. O. Stover, Miami. The committeemen in Silver Creek and Jefferson townships, have not been appointed. Further details of the location of the station will be announced by County Agent Prince later.

An innovation of the coming State Corn and Grain Show, to be held during Farmers' Week, Jan. 29-Feb. 2, at the Ohio State University, will be prizes of the best corn and grain seed available in Ohio, offered for this purpose by seed breeders of the State.

Among these prize lots of seed is a half-bushel lot of Woodburn's Yellow Dent corn, taken from the crop of the field on which William Gilmore of Licking County last year broke the world's record for yield by raising 1343 bushels of air-dried, shelled grain on ten acres.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT SPRING VALLEY IS MARKED WITH SUCCESS

Although sickness caused a large decrease in attendance, the Spring Valley Farmers' Institute, held Monday and Tuesday at Spring Valley, the first of the county series, was marked with a good program and many enjoyable features. During the afternoon and evening meetings of the two-day session, the attendance increased, many farmers coming out to hear the principal speakers, Clarence Henry of Hebron, Ohio; Arthur Dawson, South Euclid; and Mrs. Mary Cartright of Delaware. Music was furnished both days by a first class orchestra, composed of musicians from the various townships.

Edward Bogan, was elected institute president, for the coming year; Charles Mendenhall, being elected vice-president; Lawrence Evans, secretary and Mrs. Helen Sheehan, woman correspondent.

The corn show held in connection with the institute, while low in exhibits, was of good quality, judged by W. M. Hardman of Yellow Springs, who gave a talk Tuesday explaining his decisions in awarding the five prizes. Prizes were awarded; Harve Compton, first; Lawrence Soward, second; B. J. An Analysis of the Economic, Political and Social Conditions Which Make Farming Profitable

Corn is coming into its own.

The corn crop is America's largest crop in bushels, and cornfields greet the eye in every part of the great Middle West. Sometimes they stretch for miles without interruption. Corn exports in until recent years were trifling but of late they have been increased until shipments reached 166,000,000 bushels in a single year.

The American Indian grew corn but never on a large scale. Prior to the rise of European civilization on the continent of North America corn had been raised in Mexico and Peru.

Various American farmers in days gone by have made their contribution to the culture of corn, points out a leading breeders' journal. Few monuments have ever been erected by a grateful public to practical farmers in this country, but these men helped to lay the foundations of a great industry just as surely as James J. Hill laid the foundation of a great railroad system and John Wanamaker set in place the keystone of the modern system of department stores.

The department of Agriculture quotes from Sir Horace Plunkett, the Irish leader, who is making a survey of agricultural conditions in this country, words which touch the root of the country-city problem.

"Every year that passes it becomes harder to keep young men on the farm. You have got to brighten country life by making it a really progressive social and intellectual life. This depends mainly upon education, but a fundamental principle is that you don't try to bring into the country the things of the city. All these things develop so much more rapidly in the city than they possibly can in the country that the more you introduce them in the country the more you widen the gap in these respects between the country and the city. You must get the country people to realize the inherent interest in the science of agriculture, in plant and animal life—try to get them interested in the beauties of the country."

Too many people try to bring the city into the country, not realizing that each has its place and function separate from the other. The farmer or small townsmen need not apologize for the country. Its possessions are of priceless value. City men and women spend millions every year to see its hills and lakes and breathe its invigorating air, which the farmers living nearabout have sometimes failed to count among their blessings. The country is the seat of inspiration and the source of physical and mental power.

In a practical way the country is not one whit behind the city. Its fields produce the foodstuffs upon which the mills and factories, belching smoke and earning billions, depend for their existence. The farmer may become well-to-do and rich in peace of mind, in natural beauty in healthy living and in fine memories and associations.

The science of agriculture is attaining a dignity and importance comparable to that of engineering or medicine. Agriculture will take its place among the other callings toward which ambitious young men look with hope and expectation.

"Free seeds" are nearing their end. "Free seeds" were intended to placate constituents and obtain votes. But the farmers have come to realize that nothing of value is ever really "free." The custom of distributing free seeds dates back a quarter of a century. Posterity will look upon it as one of the curiosities of history.

STATE DAIRY FARMERS TO STRESS MARKETING

The marketing of milk and its products by farmer-controlled co-operatives is given emphasis in a program of 19 addresses announced today by officers of the Ohio State Dairymen's Association for the annual meeting of that body which is to be held Jan. 30, the second day of Farmers' Week, on the campus of the Ohio State University, Columbus.

Greene County farmers will be interested in the program, which is in line with their work with the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Association.
